Civil War Rages In Viet Nam

Matsu Alert For Possible Attack; Patrols Increased

Supplies Moved In By Red Ships

TAIPEI, Formosa, April 28 (AP)—The Matsu Islands today were alerted for a possible Chinese Red attack and air patrols were multiplied over the nearby mainland, where feverish activity was reported.

One wave of Nationalist patrol planes caught and set afire a 300-ton landing craft about 20 miles north of the Matsus, Nationalist air force headquarters reported.

The Defense Ministry's military information service said the Communists in a rush job had finished two new roads on Huangchi peninsula. The peninsula is only four miles north of the nearest island in the Matsu group.

Reds Move In Supplies

The service said two Communist ships loaded with supplies Tuesday slipped into the port of Huangchi. The port is 10 miles north of Matsu main island in the group 120 miles northwest of Formosa.

The service said the garrison of the seven islands in the group—believed to number 11,000 or more—had been ordered to be especially vigilant.

Air force headquarters said that air patrols over the mainland were being intensified.

The China News said Russia was stepping up deliveries of twin-jet bombers to Communist China. The Defense Ministry, however, had nothing to confirm this.

The News said when the Reds finished their air base at Lukiao, 220 miles north of Formosa, they were estimated to have about 200 IL28 twin-jet fighter bombers. This number now has been doubled, it asserted.

Formosa In Bomber Range

In any case, Formosa now is within Red bomber range and the plans for dispersal of civilians from Taipei were stepped up.

Political quarters, meanwhile, were dismayed by press reports that President Eisenhower had widened the scope of possible talks with Red China to include easing world tensions, not merely a ceasefire.

Eisenhower told his press conference yesterday the United States would be willing to talk to Red China without the Nationalists being present on such subjects as easing tensions, advancing world peace, and getting back U. S. airmen held prisoner in China.

Queen, No Blossoms

Frosty weather stripped the blossoms from the famed Shenandoah Valley apple trees but nippy temperatures failed to deter Queen Shenandoah XXVII, Jean Spratley Stephens, who poses amid a setting of flowering dogwood, Virginia's state flower. She's the daughter of Virginia's Lt. Gov. A. E. S. Stephens and was crowned at Winchester yesterday by Sen. Stuart Symington of Missouri.

Polio Experts Begin Cutter Serum Probe

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Two government polio experts arrived at the Cutter Laboratories in Berkeley, Calif., today to carry out "a very exhaustive investigation" into how some children developed polio after being inoculated with Salk vaccine made by the Cutter firm.

There was no indication of when the specialists—Drs. Karl Habel and John Tripp—might reach a conclusion and report their findings.

In the meantime, the Public Health Service raised to 11—then reduced to 10—the number of cases in which children were found to have developed polio after being vaccinated with the Cutter vaccine.

It said the California Department of Health said a reported case at San Mateo, upon further observation, had turned out not to be polio.

Case Involves Lilly Vaccine

The Health Service tabulates only those cases officially reported to it. There have been additional cases reported in the states, which have not reached Washington through official channels, including several in California involving the Cutter vaccine also, and one in Georgia involving the use of vaccine made by Eli Lilly & Co. of Indianapolis.

While the service yesterday ordered the recall of all Cutter vaccine outstanding, it said there was "no reason at this time to withdraw any lots made by Eli Lilly."

The Health Service said the occurrence of one case did not warrant any action, noting that Georgia officials reported that incubation of the disease may have been under way before vaccination.

Officials also have emphasized that they have no evidence that the Cutter vaccine is faulty; the stop order was issued as a precautionary measure pending a study.

Parents Advised To OK Shots

Other polio developments today included:

Vice Adm. Ross T. McIntire, (ret.) former surgeon general, said in a speech at Los Angeles that, "Parents should go ahead with the vaccination of their children with the Salk polio shots. The scattered cases reported after vaccination probably would have developed anyway."

Health and school officials of Oakland, Calif., abandoned plans for any mass inoculation this year. This did not preclude parents arranging for inoculation by private physicians.

Surgeon General Leonard A. Scheele reiterated here that withdrawal of the Cutter vaccine should not cause any change in plans of parents to have their children inoculated.

British Laborites Issue Manifesto

LONDON, Friday, April 29 (AP)—The Labor party bid today for victory in Britain's May 26 election with promises to work for a neutralized welfare state at home.

"No one is better fitted to represent Britain at high-level talks than Clement Attlee (the party leader and former Prime Minister)," the Laborite election platform declared.

A spokesman said the party also intends to kill the Conservative government's plan for commercial sponsorship of television in Britain beginning in September.

The 3,000-word manifesto, which Labor hopes will help throw Prime Minister Anthony Eden out of office, said Attlee and his aides, if returned to power, will:

Try to get Chiang Kai-shek's off the Chinese offshore islands.

Strive for Red China's admission to the United Nations.

Seek neutralization of Formosa under the U. N., so Formosans could make their own choice between Red China and freedom.

Work for ultimate worldwide disarmament, even if it means "sacrifices of national sovereignty."

Brownell Hints Anti-Trust Violations In Ad Practices

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell said today a Justice Department study of some advertising practices in the publishing industry "indicates violation of the anti-trust laws."

He said he hoped the matter would be worked out amicably, by mutual agreement between the government and publisher associations through a consent decree that would end the practices cited.

In reply to reporters' questions, Brownell emphasized that he was talking only about a civil action and said no individuals—only associations—are concerned.

Brownell singled out for attention what he called a requirement by associations "that a compulsory 15 per cent commission be maintained for the (advertising) agency placing the advertising with some publication."

Elisha Hanson, general counsel of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., discussed the situation in New York today at the ANPA national convention.

Hanson said the action centers around the ANPA's listing of accredited advertising agencies who then receive a 15 per cent discount from regular advertising rates.

Anyone not on the accredited list is theoretically forbidden to get the 15 per cent off, but ANPA Gen. Mgr. Cranston Williams said:

"We have reason to believe there is not a member of the association who does not give the 15 per cent to agencies not on our recognition list."

Williams did not reply directly to questions as to whether the association might negotiate a consent decree with the Justice Department.

Three Men Perish In Crash Of Plane

WILMINGTON, Del., April 28 (AP)—Three men were killed today when a small plane crashed on the outskirts of Wilmington, not far from a heavily-populated housing development.

Two bodies were thrown clear of the plane and hurtled to the ground, one landing with such force that it dug a foot-deep hole. The third person was trapped in the plane's wreckage which caught fire after crashing.

The small four-seater plane, identified as a Beechcraft Bonanza, was owned by Atlantic Aviation Service, Inc. It had taken off from the DuPont Airport near here shortly before crashing.

Envoy Reports To President On Indo Crisis

Ike Told Fighting Could Drastically Affect U. S. Policy

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Gen. J. Lawton Collins reported to the White House today on the critical Indochina outlook, only a few hours after open war broke out between the Viet Nam government and rebel forces in the streets of Saigon.

Collins, who is special ambassador to Indochina, is back here for consultations. He is understood to have told President Eisenhower and the National Security Council that future American policy toward non-Communist Indochina could be drastically affected by the outcome of the bloody fighting.

Hope For Diem Victory

Top American officials were reported hoping that loyal army forces of the American-backed Premier Ngo Diem would succeed in crushing the attempted rebellion by an opposition group known as the Binh Xuyen.

These officials were obviously dismayed and surprised by the action of Emperor Bao Dai, from his home on the French Riveria in ordering Premier Diem to hurry to France for urgent consultations with him on the crisis. This move, it was feared, would weaken Diem's position.

No official word came either from the White House or the State Department about the two-hour National Security Council session which Collins attended today.

French Are Factor

A victory by Diem's loyal forces could be expected to reinforce American determination to continue backing him as ruler, despite any French opposition.

One of the critical factors in the outcome of the war, it was believed, was whether the French would secretly support the rebels with whom they have worked closely in the past.

Since Diem's is the legally recognized government, American officials were hoping French authorities would stand by earlier promises to continue logistic support to his forces.

Garageman Kills Wife And Barber

TAMPA, Fla., April 28 (AP)—A garage operator shot and killed his wife and a barber today before hundreds of stunned shoppers.

Coroner W. Marion Hendry said Mario Garcia surrendered to police after shooting Mary Garcia, 39, and Felix Rodriguez, 41, with a shotgun in one of Tampa's Latin districts.

Hendry said Garcia began firing at his wife while she was driving her car. She jumped out and ran into a bakery operated by her sister and was cutdown there.

Garcia then went to the barber shop about two blocks away and shot Rodriguez as he worked on a customer, the coroner related.

Hendry said Garcia, 44, had been a mental patient at a Tampa hospital for about a month two years ago.

The coroner reported witnesses said Garcia had accused his wife of being friendly with the barber, but that her family denied today there was any impropriety.

Woman Would Occupy Survival City Shelter

DECATUR, Ga., April 28 (AP)—A doctor's wife today volunteered to sit out this spring's big atomic test in a bomb shelter at Survival City, Nev.

Mrs. Marion Jacoby made the unusual request in a telephone call to Elliott Jackson, Atlanta Civil Defense director now in Nevada to view the explosion. She said Jackson told her he would consult with Val Peterson, national Civil Defense director, and call her back.

The idea was "just another case of pioneering," the 43-year-old housewife said. "Columbus took a chance. Why shouldn't I?"

Mrs. Jacoby said if her offer is accepted she would like to occupy a bomb shelter in a brick house, one of a number of buildings set up in Survival City, which is to be battered in the explosion. The test was postponed for the third time today and Atomic Energy Commission officials say it may be held Saturday.

Strong Quake Recorded

BERKELEY, Calif., April 28 (AP)—A strong earthquake believed to be in the Aleutians or Central America, was recorded by the University of California seismograph at 12:12.47 PDT today.

Ratification Of Paris Treaties Completed

Netherlands Senate Approves German Rearmament, 32-2

THE HAGUE, Netherlands, April 28 (AP)—West German rearmament received its final parliamentary blessing today. The Dutch Senate cast a historic 32-2 vote for the Paris treaties. It was the last such endorsement needed to bring West Germany into the Western Alliance against communism.

The Dutch lower house approved the pacts 71-6 March 30. So now, after nearly five years of emotional and political struggle, the parliaments of all 15 nations affected have voted for West Germany's sovereignty and the right to recruit armed forces that will eventually total a half million soldiers, sailors and airmen.

Ceremonies Next Month

Ceremonies marking West Germany's change from a former enemy to a full Western power will take place early next month—10 years after the unconditional surrender of Hitler's Reich. The signed treaties will be deposited in various capitals, formal diplomatic notice that they are in effect.

The Bonn Republic's enrollment in a seven-nation Western European Union and in the North Atlantic Treaty Organization is planned at foreign ministers' meetings opening in Paris May 7.

The nations in the alliance are West Germany and the 14 present members of NATO: Britain, France, Italy, the Netherlands, Belgium, Luxembourg, Turkey, Iceland, Norway, Denmark, Portugal, Greece, Canada and the United States.

What Agreements Mean

All signed one or more of the four Paris agreements. Spelled out in more than 30,000 words, this is what they will do:

Restore sovereignty to West Germany after 10 years of Allied occupation.

Permit Allied troops to stay on there for the defense of Europe.

Create the WEU as the framework for West German rearmament. WEU will consist of the Brussels Pact nations — Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—plus Italy and West Germany.

Admit West Germany into NATO as the 15th member.

Give WEU political control of the Saar, a border state disputed between the French and Germans, until a German peace treaty is signed.

LEADS IN ITALY — A stubbornly divided Italian Parliament cast its third ballot last night to elect a new president and for the third time failed to agree on a man. A two-thirds majority—562 votes—is needed to name a president on the first three ballots. Giovanni Gronchi (above), left-wing Christian Democrat and president of the Chamber of Deputies, gained sharply on the third ballot. He got 281 votes to 245 for Cesare Merzagora, president of the Senate.

Gruenther Sees Russia Losing If It Risks War

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Gen. Alfred M. Gruenther says that when it comes down to the capacity for delivering nuclear weapons, "The Soviets are not in the same league with us."

"In spite of the Soviet strength, if they went to war today they would lose," he told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee, "because of our overwhelming air capability."

Gruenther, commander in Europe for the North Atlantic Treaty Organization, testified March 26. His testimony, after being heavily censored for security items, was made public today.

Reds "Need More Than Shoes"

The general recalled that in 1951 when President Eisenhower took command of the infant NATO, he asked a "cynical" general what the Reds would need to march to the English Channel. He said the reply was, "General, all they need is shoes."

"They need more than shoes now," Gruenther told the senators. "They would have to bring in additional forces from the Soviet Union. They could do that, but we would have warning."

The NATO leader offered this capsule estimate of Russian strength:

Their land forces are "very good"; their air force is "reasonably good"; what they don't have in quality they make up in quantity; they have a "relatively weak" surface navy, but there is a continuing emphasis on submarines.

Ridgway Testimony Recalled

Gruenther's appraisal of the Russian land forces recalled the testimony of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, Army chief of staff, that the Soviet army is the most powerful land combat force in being today, "equipped and disposed to undertake a major war with little warning."

On the point of Russian capacity to deliver nuclear weapons, Gruenther said "I do not say it does not exist, but it is limited and to develop it will take time."

Thousand Half-Dollars Spill Out Of Truck

ST. PETER, Minn., April 28 (AP)—A thousand freshly-minted half dollar pieces spilled over a half mile stretch of highway today when the floorboards buckled on a big semi-trailer hauling $250,000.

A guard in a following Brink's armored truck said the deluge of coins "looked like ducks flying through the air."

The Brink's truck flagged down the semitrailer after contents of a broken sack containing $500 had jingled onto Highway 169 and into ditches six miles north of here.

Scores of motorists screeched to a halt and began scooping up the shiny coins. Most of them were returned, Brink's employes said.

Reds Claim Thunderjet

TOKYO, Friday, April 29 (AP)—Peiping radio said today Red ground guns shot down a Chinese Nationalist Thunderjet Tuesday near the island of Namoa, 190 miles across the strait from Formosa. This is the same area where the Communists claimed they bagged a Thunderjet Sunday.

Bevan Returns To Party Fold

LONDON, April 28 (AP)—Aneurin Bevan, rebellious left wing Laborite, was given back his membership of the House of Commons Labor party tonight.

The explosive, silver-tongued Welshman was booted out of the parliamentary party March 16 after a running battle with Labor party leader Clement Attlee on defense policies.

Bevan since has apologized in writing to the party executive and promised not to oppose the leadership any more.

The parliamentary party acted tonight on the advice of the Labor shadow cabinet.

Bevan now can stand as an official Labor party candidate for his home district and lend his full weight to the election campaign against Prime Minister Eden's Conservatives.

Graham Ends Crusade

GLASGOW, Scotland, April 28 (AP)—Billy Graham preached the last sermon in his current crusade in Glasgow's Kelvin Hall tonight and promised he would be back again.

Ford Urges Fair Industry Study Of Guaranteed Wage

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Henry Ford II said tonight he has no hesitation in fairly examining a guaranteed annual wage or any other theory for stablizing labor. The word "security" doesn't scare him, he added.

But the president of the Ford Motor Co. warned against any rigid freezing of the labor pattern, any "guaranteed annual stagnation." He called automation—the replacement of men by machines—a grossly inflated labor issue.

With only passing mention of the guaranteed annual wage as such but with it apparently much in mind, Ford told the annual dinner of the Bureau of Advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn. in a prepared speech:

"Perhaps what is needed is a new kind of prosperity insurance policy based on a reasonable, businesslike, pay-as-you-go plan, with limited and predictable costs."

Ford's company, one of the auto industry's big three, now is bargaining with the CIO United Auto Workers. One union goal is a guarantee of pay for so many weeks a year despite any layoffs that may occur.

The 37-year-old auto magnate urged industry to examine "fairly and fearlessly all means which, consistent with free enterprise, will enhance our future prosperity and security, as individuals and as a nation."

Ford said he personally has a big stake in steady employment.

Reports Of Deal To Help Chiang Denied By Eden

LONDON, April 28 (AP) — Prime Minister Eden angrily rejected tonight suggestions his government was making a secret deal to guarantee the defense of Chiang Kai-shek's Formosa against Red Chinese attack.

"There is no truth whatsoever in these reports," he declared in the House of Commons.

Eden rose to the challenge of former Laborite War Minister John Strachey, who asked if he had "noted" such reports in the American press.

Strachey broke into a debate on military conscription to ask of Eden:

"Does he contemplate, in the event of his remaining prime minister, the possibility of this country undertaking further and larger commitments in distant theaters?

"Has his attention been drawn to the statements, which are very frequent in the American press, that in the event of the present government being returned, this country would undertake a commitment to maintain with our forces the government of Chiang Kai-shek on the island of Formosa?"

Eden rose to his feet to declare: "I do not want any currency given to that. There is no truth whatever of our having entered into such an engagement or contemplated, or having been asked by anyone, to undertake such an engagement."

D. C. To Be Evacuated In Case Of Atom Attack

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The District of Columbia commissioners decided today on a policy of trying to evacuate the city in case of atomic or hydrogen bomb attack.

Commissioner Samuel Spencer said, "It is a question of how far we can evacuate and still have cover from fallout." He said they figured the people could move out past a circle seven miles from the center of the downtown daytime population. The evacuation would be primarily by auto into nearby Maryland and Virginia.

Liner's Luggage Burns

COBH, Ireland, April 28 (AP)—The captain of the Cunard liner Britannic reported today fire raged through a baggage hold and destroyed passengers' luggage and mails while the ship was at sea.

Most of the 60 passengers who disembarked here from the 27,666-ton liner had lost their trunks.

Diem Battles Private Army; Over 100 Dead

Bao Dai's Summons To Premier Viewed As Demand He Quit

SAIGON, South Viet Nam, Friday, April 29 (AP)—American-backed Premier Ngo Dinh Diem waged an all-out shooting war today for survival of his government against the private racketeer army of Binh Xuyen.

Mortar and small arms fire shook Saigon, capital city of two million people.

A square mile of the city was set afire.

More than 100 persons had been killed and about 500 wounded up to dawn today in the civil war between government troops and the Binh Xuyen units of former river pirates.

In the midst of the fight the absentee chief of state, ex-Emperor Bao Dai, sent from his French Riviera home a summons which in effect was a demand for Premier Diem's resignation.

Diem Summoned To Talks

Bao Dai summoned Diem and Gen. Le Van Ty, army chief of staff, to an urgent conference in France.

Diem could not be reached this morning for his reaction to the summons.

By telegram from the Riviera Bao Dai relieved Diem of his military powers and conferred them on Gen. Nguyen Van Vy, who recently fled to Dalat, a mountain retreat, saying he feared arrest by the government.

For a month Diem has lived on top of a hair-trigger truce with the Binh Xuyen. It had joined with two armed religious sects, Hoa Hao and Cao Dai, in demanding reorganization of his government.

As a police force, Binh Xuyen controlled gambling, prostitution and other enterprises.

Palace Attacked

Diem has been trying to remove the Binh Xuyen chief of security police, who was appointed by Bao Dai.

The truce exploded early Thursday afternoon when Binh Xuyen opened mortar fire on the Premier's palace and attacked national army headquarters and police headquarters.

Diem promptly ordered three battalions of infantry and parachute troopers to attack the 5,000-man rebel force. Its headquarters is in refugee-packed Cho Lon, a suburb of the capital.

Early today the government announced the capture of seven Binh Xuyen strongholds, and indicated it was driving the rebels back into Cho Lon.

But the announcement of the fall of at least one of these proved to be premature.

Theater Under Attack

Government troops still were attacking the Van Cam Theater on Rue de la Resistance, which commands the approach to a Y-shaped bridge leading to Cho Lon.

This was one of two strongholds whose fall the government had said opened the army's path to Cho Lon.

The other was a print shop across the street.

The army also had been unable to dislodge the green-bereted Binh Xuyen commandos from Lycee Petrusky, a Vietnamese high school not far from the headquarters of the American military training mission for government troops.

A-Test May Be Held Tomorrow

SURVIVAL CITY, Nev., April 28 (AP)—The Civil Defense atomic test was postponed for the third time today—and the multitude of visiting observers from across the nation began dwindling away as the cost of delay mounted in their time and dollars.

Originally scheduled for last Tuesday, the shot has been held up by unfavorable winds and now cannot be held until at least Saturday.

None of the thousand or more Civil Defense workers and other officials who have crowded Las Vegas since last week raised any question about the wisdom of Atomic Energy Commission experts in again delaying the explosion of a huge atomic device, because winds could have dropped some radioactive fallout on Nevada communities.

But the bill for hotels and meals, in many cases paid out of the pockets of the observers themselves, was becoming substantial as the observers were compelled to prolong their stay in this famous resort city.

12 Persons Perish In Chicago Blazes

CHICAGO, April 28 (AP)—Flames raced through two Chicago buildings, one of them a walkup hotel, today taking a toll of at least 12 lives.

Eight bodies, including that of a fire captain who died fighting the blaze, were recovered from the ruins of the Green Mill Hotel and a search for other possible victims continued.

Three children and their uncle were killed in the second fire in an apartment building less than a half-mile from the stricken hotel.

Some 20 persons leaped from windows of the hotel, which occupied the upper three floors of a four-story building, and were injured. Others were carried down ladders. Seven firemen were hurt fighting the fires.

Authorities said there was evidence that the hotel fire was set off by an arsonist. Earle Downes, fire department attorney, said he believes an arsonist dumped flammable material on the hotel stairway leading from the street to the second floor and then ignited it. Coroner Walter J. McCarron said he concurred in this belief.

Police said they are investigating the possibility that both fires were deliberately set. They noted the proximity of the two buildings and found that both fires broke out only minutes apart. Both fires occurred about 1 a.m.

Downes said a resident of the hotel told him the fire burst forth on the stairway less than five minutes after he had used the stairs to enter the hotel. The witness reported there were no signs of fire when he used the stairs.

Both buildings are in the Halsted Street Milwaukee Avenue area, a short distance northwest of Chicago's Loop. More than 80 persons were reported in the hotel when the blaze erupted.

Mitchell 'Blacklists' Eight Tenn. Mines

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Secretary of Labor Mitchell today ordered the "black listing" of eight small Tennessee coal mines for failure to maintain safety and sanitation standards while filling government contracts for coal.

The action, first of its kind, deprives the companies of their right to bid on contracts with the Tennessee Valley Authority and other federal agencies.

The firms have 20 days in which to appeal to Mitchell and show compliance with the law before their ineligibility goes into effect automatically.

Lawyers Take Opposite Sides On Treaty Curbs

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Leading lawyers disagreed today about the need for changing the Constitution to limit the treaty-making power.

Limitations are proposed in a constitutional amendment drawn up by Sen. Bricker (R-Ohio) and now being considered by a Senate Judiciary subcommittee.

Dana C. Backus, a New York expert on international law, told the senators that when the Constitution was drafted in 1787 it was expressly provided that treaties were the supreme law of the land. Adoption of the Bricker amendment, he said, would be "a long step back toward the Articles of Confederation," under which the central government was largely impotent.

He was aiming especially at a section of the Bricker amendment which says treaties cannot become internal law in the United States unless separate legislation is passed to make them so. Since there are some subjects on which only the states—not the federal government—can legislate, opponents of the Bricker amendment say the states thus could play hob with the treaty-making power.

But Eberhard P. Deutsch of New Orleans, argued there is danger in modern claims that the powers of the federal government, under treaty clauses, "extend to control and regulation of internal affairs which other parts of the Constitution expressly prohibit or reserve to the state governments."

Secretary of State Dulles will explain his position on the complicated subject to the subcommittee next Monday.

Army Plans To Draft 10,000 Men In June

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The Army today issued a draft call for 10,000 men in June.

The quota is the same as that previously announced for May. The April call was for 8,000 men—the lowest of any month since the draft resumed shortly after the outbreak of war in Korea.

Transcontinental Toll Road Urged

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — A transcontinental toll road connecting the East and West coasts was proposed today by Sen. Martin (R-Pa.).

He introduced a bill to permit negotiation of an interstate compact providing for the highway. Participating would be Pennsylvania, West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana, WIllinois, Missouri, Kansas, Colorado, Utah, Nevada, California and any other states interested.

Martin's bill provides that the highway connect with the Pennsylvania Turnpike east of Pittsburgh and extend to San Francisco along the general course of present U.S. 40.

Jelke Gets Two To Three Years

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Minot F. (Mickey) Jelke, prodigal oleomargarine heir, was sentenced today to two to three years in prison as a cafe society vice peddler. His lawyer said the sentence will be appealed.

In a vain bid for a suspended sentence, the defense attorney, George W. Herz, pleaded:

"He was blinded by the glamour of the gilded cafes. Now he has seen the white light of moral, decent living."

The 25-year-old Jelke paled at the sentence and dropped his chin onto his chest. His brother, Charles, only member of his family with him in court, wept.

"I thought I was going to get a break," Jelke told his lawyer afterward, even though the same judge gave him three to six years on an identical conviction two years ago. That sentence was upset on appeal because part of the first trial was closed to press and public.

Jelke could have gotten a maximum prison term of 40 years. The minimum was two years. He will be eligible for parole in 16 months.

Four Wounded In Strike Battle

COVINGTON, Ky., April 28 (AP)—Three employes of the strikebound Louisville & Nashville Railroad and another man described as a bystander were wounded late today in a shooting at the railroad's Decoursey yards near here.

Most seriously wounded was William Hensley, 23, the bystander, who was shot in the back with a revolver.

The railroad employes wounded were Richard Courtney, 19, of Covington; Roger Martin, 44, of Walton and Archie Webster, 26, of Cincinnati. None was wounded seriously.

The violence occurred as Courtney drove a personnel truck load of L&N employes from the yards.

There were conflicting reports as to the sequence of events.

Courtney said pickets tried to stop his truck and as he drove through the picket line a shot was fired into the cab, wounding him and Martin.

Webster, riding in the rear of the truck, also was hit by part of the charge and he said he also was struck with a brick.

Clarksburg Dual Slaying Baffles Probers

CLARKSBURG, W. Va., April 28 (AP)—A team of 12 investigators reported little progress today in finding either a suspect or a clue to the double slaying of a socialite and her maid.

Mrs. Frances Laughlin, 44-year-old wife of a nationally prominent Clarksburg dentist, and Mrs. Joan Bland, 31, the Laughlins' parttime maid, were found shot to death yesterday in the Laughlin's ranch-type home in the fashionable Goff Plaza residential section.

Still awaited were reports of autopsies and ballistics tests.

Both women had been shot in the head and police said the weapon apparently was a revolver.

Although robbery has not been crossed off as a motive, a cash cache of $3,000 hidden in a shoe in a bedroom closet had not been disturbed. And there was no indication anything else was missing from the home where Dr. Carl A. Laughlin, his wife and two young sons lived.

About the only new discovery to the killings was that the cord used to bind Mrs. Bland hand and foot was new and apparently recently purchased and that the adhesive used to tape her mouth was similar to that used by doctors, Police Chief M. F. Jordan said.

So That You May Enjoy } a Checking Account we offer a choice—Regular or ThriftiCheck!

MANY people who could make good use of a personal checking account still deny themselves the convenience and safety that such a service can offer.

A checking account provides the easiest method ever devised for paying bills, keeping a record of expenditures, and having proof of payments made. Yet such a service costs but little to maintain, and often there is no cost at all.

A Regular Checking Account, for example, costs proportionately little — no matter how many checks are drawn or deposits made — when the average balance in the account is large enough to earn a good share of the handling expense.

With a THRIFTICHECK Account, you don't have to maintain a large balance—keep on deposit as much or as little as you want! You pay-in-advance a few pennies per check, and enjoy most of the advantages of a Regular Checking Account.

So when it comes to checking accounts, come to us — for the type of service that suits you best — either Regular Checks or THRIFTICHECKS!

Peer's Plea To Let His Son Stay Commoner Rejected

LONDON, April 28 (AP) — The House of Lords has turned down the impassioned plea of a peer to let his son remain a commoner.

The decision means Anthony Wedgwood Benn, 30, and his pretty American wife must some day take a title they don't want.

Viscount Stansgate, named a peer in 1941, urged the lords to let his son continue his career as a Labor member of the House of Commons.

"A king may abdicate but a peer may not!" Lord Stansgate cried out.

Titles of nobility pass to the male relative in direct line on the death of the holder. Stansgate is 77.

He told the lords that when his son, then 17, heard he had been named a peer, he became "very angry and abused me." Even at that age the boy was planning a political career, Stansgate said.

In February Anthony asked that the title be put in cold storage during his lifetime and revived on his death for his own 3-year-old.

This week, despite strong expressions of sympathy from Conservative and Laborite peers and a letter from Winston Churchill, the House ruled out Stansgate's proposal as unconstitutional.

The decision — the final one — means that on his father's death Wedgwood Benn automatically will lose his seat in the Commons and go to the lords if he chooses.

Mrs. Wedgwood Benn is the former Caroline Middleton of Cincinnati. She will become Lady Stansgate. But she has said she would rather go without the title and see her husband's Commons career continue.

Stansgate was a prominent Commons man until he was ennobled. He went voluntarily to the lords to strengthen Laborite representation there during Churchill's wartime coalition.

Rock-Thrower's Aim Poor On Two Counts

MADISON, Wis., April 28 (AP)—When Walter Dugan aimed to throw a rock through the window of his girl friend's home, his aim was poor on two counts.

In the first place, Superior Judge Roy Proctor noted yesterday, Dugan's project constituted disorderly conduct. In the second place, he hit the wrong house. Proctor fined him $25.

Marriage Literally Went To The Dogs

TACOMA, Wash., April 28 (AP)—Herman B. Riden, 49, lamented in court this week his marriage of last Dec. 29 quickly went to the dogs.

"The second day after we were married," he said at his divorce suit hearing," my wife moved in 17 dogs I didn't know she had."

He said he'd been awakened in the middle of the night by a dog licking his face. He couldn't get out of bed without stepping on one.

"After three weeks I asked my wife to leave."

Said Superior Judge John D. Cochran: "Divorce granted."

Number Of Shoe Sizes For Military Ordered Halved

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—Defense unification took another step today—in shoes.

The Pentagon decided military feet can be squeezed into less than half the number of shoe sizes now provided for male members of the armed forces.

This decision was reached after the experts, completing years of study, came to the conclusion that foot sizes should be the same for an Army soldier, a jet pilot, a Navy boatswain, or a Marine.

Not only does the order reduce the number of shoe sizes from 235 to 113 but it also decrees that the same system of lasts must prevail for all of the services. The Pentagon said the decision will save money because it will require smaller reserve stocks and generally make the supply job easier.

Substitute Teachers Are Nation's Forgotten Men, Women, NEA Says

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—The nation's forgotten men and women, the National Education Assn. said recently, are the teachers who fill in when the regular teacher can't be present.

There are 160,000 of these substitute teachers, most of them women.

Though the school can't run without them — it takes one substitute for each six teachers — they have terrible working conditions, they have no future and they are pitifully underpaid even for a field never renowned as a place to get rich quick.

On the average, they get $12.21 a day, or a little more than half what a full-time teacher is paid.

"One city in the South — and it's a big city, too—pays only $8 a day," an NEA official said. "I wish I could identify the city, but it's against our policy. Anyway, we figured out that after the withholding tax, a teacher there would have a take-home pay of $6.40. In smaller towns, the pay is as little as $5 a day."

William G. Carr, NEA executive secretary, says this is the first major study in a "largely unexplored field of education endeavor."

Let's take a look at a typical substitute teacher.

She's married, 43 and the mother of one or two school-age children.

This poor creature often has to fill in at a moment's notice.

"I had only one hour," one substitute reported, "to garb, gobble and git (13 miles)."

When she arrives breathlessly at school, she often finds that lessons plans are inadequate, that no one bothers even to introduce her to her new students, and that she has little personal information about them.

Intense Radioactivity Discovered Two Years Ago In Baltimore's Old Kelly Clinic

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP)—Radioactivity, usually associated with A-bombs and uranium prospecting, was discovered two years ago bouncing around in a Baltimore building.

Two scientists discovered an "astounding" amount of contamination when they went on the prowl with detection equipment in the old Kelly Clinic, once world-famous radiological center which closed in December 1952.

Their discovery was the basis for new recommendations in the design of radiological clinics and the procedures they use.

The findings of Henry N. Doyle, chief of the occupational health program for the U. S. Public Health Service, and C. E. Couchman, director of industrial hygiene for the Baltimore Health Department, were made public at the recent industrial health conference of the American Industrial Hygiene Assn.

A Health Department spokesman said the clinic buildings are not occupied at present, but have been decontaminated and are completely safe.

The report said: "Materials containing removable alpha-emitting radiation were found throughout the clinic. In several locations, the alpha contamination, resulting from almost a half-century of use, was truly astounding.

"Counts as high as 30 million disintegrations per minute were recorded on survey. This, it should be noted, is in marked contrast to the zero to 50 disintegrations per minute thought to be a maximum permissible level."

The clinic was founded in 1904 by the late Dr. Howard A. Kelly, first gynecologist-in-chief at Johns Hopkins Hospital and a pioneer in the therapeutic use of radium. The clinic made wide use of radon, a gaseuous radioisotope of radium.

The report said, "In 1914, the clinic started a radon emanation and purification plant to prepare radon applicators for therapeutic use.

"At the time the health hazards associated with radium were not fully appreciated, and practices that would now be considered extremely dangerous were then the normal procedure."

During the early years, the report said, the lack of precaution may have caused the death of two radon pumpers from aplastic anemia.

The search by Doyle and Couchman turned up a surprising amount of apparently forgotten radioactive materials. A misplaced supply of 40 millicuries was found in a safe. In another office, six supposedly empty radium capsules contained 10 millicuries of radioactivity.

"Furniture, carpets, floors, stairs, offices and medical equipment were found to be contaminated with radioactive material," the report said.

Doyle and Couchman recommended that future clinics be designed to provide maximum protection against radiation, that a monitering system be set up to detect radiation and that local health officers be familiar with procedures used.

McKeldin Vetoes Bill To Postpone Auto Tag Boost

Horror Comics' Sale To Children Banned

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP)—The sale of horror comics to anyone under 18 in Maryland was banned today under a bill signed into law by Gov. Theodore R. McKeldin.

The measure, which becomes effective June 1, was one of an even dozen signed by McKeldin as he cleaned up work on 785 bills passed by the 1955 Legislature.

Among 61 tossed into the veto file were bills to:

Postpone motor vehicle license fee increases totaling six-million dollars a year until 1957.

Prohibit the use of more than two-million dollars in surplus funds for general government services.

Double the present $10-per-pupil limit on state aid in the present education financing formula.

Authorize Montgomery and Harford Counties to impose a tax on cigarets and other tobacco products.

Prevent the State Roads Commission from making a denied-or limited access freeway out of U.S. 13 in Somerset County.

Compel the governor to submit his budget to the Legislature earlier in the session so the lawmakers would have more time to study and revise it.

Besides the comic book bill, which was sponsored by Dels. Tilghman Eaton (D-Queen Annes) and Myrtle A. Polk (D-Worcester, the only other measure of chief statewide interest signed by McKeldin removes tolls from the Patuxent River Bridge.

The State Roads Commission estimates this will mean a one-million-dollar hole in its general construction fund after the bill becomes effective next December.

Although the governor released copies of only 24 veto messages after the bill signing, he made clear the fate of the 37 pieces of legislation still not officially acted upon by announcing:

"Everything else is vetoed."

Today's veto messages made no mention of the bills on higher license fees for motorists, surplus funds, education aid, cigaret taxes or U.S. 13.

A spokesman said the governor would give his reasons for rejecting these shortly. The deadline for action on all bills remaining is May 7.

The law on comic books specifically exempts "accounts of crime which are a part of the ordinary and general dissemination of news" and "such drawings and photographs as are used to illustrate such accounts."

It covers "any book, pamphlet, magazine, or other printed paper principally composed of pictures and specifically including but not limited to comic books devoted to the publication and exploitation of actual or fictional deeds of violent bloodshed, lust or immorality or which, for a child below the age of 18 years, are obscene, lewd, lascivious, filthy indecent or disgusting, and so presented as reasonably to tend to incite a child below the age of 18 years to violence or depraved or immoral acts against the person."

Penalties for violation are set at $25-$200 in fines, 10 days to six months imprisonment, or both.

About one half of all drivers in auto accidents in the United States are between 25 and 45 years of age.

Tot Plunges Four Stories To Death

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — A 2-year-old boy died today after falling four stories from a bedroom window.

The child, Tyrone King, had been put to bed for an afternoon nap. His body was found in the back yard by other children. The open window was unscreened.

He was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph King.

Short Resulted In Nike Firing

FT. MEADE, Md., April 28 (AP)—The Army said yesterday it was a short and a SNAFU that sent one of its Nike guided missiles soaring into the air accidentally April 14.

The missile exploded and fragments fell on the Washington-Baltimore Parkway between Ft. Meade and Laurel, Md.

Second Army Headquarters explained it this way:

"The cable, part of the fire command circuit, was examined by a manufacturer's representative immediately after the accident and evidence of intermittent shorting was found." It said some changes are being made to give a warning of any similar malfunction in the future.

The Army also said there had been a "procedural error" on the part of the launching crew. This it did not explain. It said, "Training procedures at all Nike sites have been altered to prevent a repetition. . ."

Store At Hagerstown Is Looted By Thieves

HAGERSTOWN, April 28 (AP) — Thieves got an estimated $6,000 in watches and rings in a burglarly last night officials at the Miller Furniture Store said.

They estimated 75 to 100 watches worth an average of $60 and three dozen rings valued at $40 apiece were taken from a showcase.

Detectives said the thieves got in through a second floor window entering via an adjoining roof.

The Miller chain has headquarters in Harrisburg, Pa.

Labor Statistics Post Goes To Ewan Clague

Clague held this job in the Truman administration but his term expired last Aug. 20. Since then, he has been a special assistant to Secretary of Labor Mitchell while the labor statistics post remained vacant.

Asphalt Institute Will Dedicate College Park Building Next Week

COLLEGE PARK, Md., April 28 (AP)—The Asphalt Institute dedicates its new executive offices and laboratories at the Glenn L. Martin Institute of Technology here next Thursday.

Guest speaker in formal exercises in the University of Maryland armory will be Jennings Randolph, assistant to the president of Capital Airlines and treasurer of the American Road Builders Assn.

As part of the ceremonies, a construction team from a Washington contracting firm will seek to establish a national speed record for paving a standard block.

Asphalt spreaders and rollers will resurface a 300-foot strip of road in front of the new Institute building. The 35-year-old institute moved here recently from New York.

The laboratories test asphaltic materials to gather information on how to build smoother, sturdier, safer highways, airport pavements and irrigation canals.

Student In Love Bricks Entrance To Rival's Home

VIENNA, Austria, April 28 (AP) — A student of architecture was given a three months suspended sentence for bricking up the entrance of his rival's house to prove his love to his girl friend.

An Austrian court heard that the student and a policeman were both courting a pretty dark - haired young lady, who couldn't make up her mind.

Finally she decided to become the wife of the future architect provided he proved his manly daring in some original manner.

So one night recently the young man quietly erected a brick wall in the entrance of the policeman's home.

In court this week, the judge laughed and suspended sentence saying the man showed promise of becoming a good architect.

Dr. Einstein, "Father" Of Atom Bomb, Helped To Make Radio, Television, "Talkies" Possible

By FRANK CAREY
Associated Press Science Reporter

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP)—You may know that Prof. Albert Einstein, who died recently was indirectly the "father" of the atomic bomb.

But you may not know that to a certain degree you have him to thank for your radio and TV sets, the talking movies at your neighborhood theater, a long distance telephone call to your Aunt Martha, and certain other applications of electronics.

When a race horse drives across the finish line at the Kentucky Derby, Dr. Einstein is there in spirit, thanks to the "photo-electric eye" that records a close finish.

When a modern office building door opens for you, as though pulled by an unseen hand—but actually activated by an "electric eye"—your spared effort is indirectly due to Einstein.

When modern astronomers study the stars by means of their "spectra" of light—or the scientists of the FBI study some unknown material, gathered at the scene of a crime, with an instrument known as a "spectroscope"—Einstein is, in effect, at their shoulders. He's present in spirit, too, when medical researchers study viruses, such as the villains of polio, with that super-sleuth of science, the electron microscope.

The great scientist didn't invent TV, the "electric eye," the spectroscope or any of these other devices—but it was Einstein who fathered a scientific law which facilitated their development or expanded their use.

The law is known as the "photo-electric law" which, to put it very simply, explains the antics of electrons that are released when various kinds of light strike a metal plate. In your TV set, you have some such phenomenon.

Before Einstein came up with his law, scientists had long been puzzled by this effect. They knew that when lights of varying colors struck a metal plate, electrons—tiny electric bullets—were released from the plate, but at different velocities, depending upon the color of light employed.

They found, too, that changing the intensities of the lights didn't make any difference; it was the color (or wavelength) of the light that caused the different electronic effects.

Einstein eventually found this explanation, which he proved mathematically:

Light, at least in some of its manifestations, is made up of specific particles of energy which he named "photons." He further held that some photons pack more energy than others. And that is why, he said, lights of varying color exert different wallops when they strike a metal plate.

Einstein's explanation—and accompanying equations — evidently convinced the scientific world, because his work on the subject won him a Nobel Prize.

His work not only laid the groundwork for the eventual development of certain electronic devices, but it promoted better understanding of the science of spectroscopy—the study of materials on the basis of light they emit when subjected to heat.

But, while applications of the photoelectric law affect most modern families, Einstein probably will be best remembered by present and future generations as the man who developed the historic equation, "E equals M times C squared."

That equation is the keystone of the atomic bomb, the hydrogen bomb, and, in fact, anything related to nuclear energy. It's the basis for the world's first atomic submarine, the Nautilus. It will, in effect, ride the cockpit of the first nuclear-powered aircraft. It will figure in every electric light lit, every industrial engine moved by atomic power plants of the future.

In the equation, "E" stands for energy; "M" stands for mass; and "C squared" stands for the velocity of light (186,284 miles a second) multiplied by itself.

A development of Einstein's theory of relativity, it means that matter and energy are equivalent. In other words, matter IS energy in a kind of hardened form, while energy IS matter in a kind of unseen fluid-like form.

It means that one kilogram (2.2 pounds) of any material, such as coal, if converted entirely into energy, would give 25 billion kilowatt hours of energy — almost enough to keep the total electric power industry in the United States running approximately two months.

It means that one kilogram of Uranium-235, an atom bomb material, if converted entirely into energy, would give the energy equivalent of 20,000 tons of TNT. Such energy would also be equivalent to that of 7,000 tons of coal—or the daily energy output of Hoover Dam.

Einstein came up with this equation in 1905—40 years before the first atomic bomb was tested on a New Mexico desert, and many years even before the discovery that uranium was fissionable. But it laid the whole basis for modern atomic concepts, and paved the way for the development of the A-bomb.

Einstein's theory of relativity may constitute a mental fast-ball for you—as it does even for many scientists—but, in general, it deals with the inter-relationship of time and space, matter and energy, gravitation and inertia.

One of the things it states is that space and time are not entities in themselves. Rather, the theory holds, their "existence" depends upon their relation to something else.

Einstein's theories — including one that holds that light is "curved" by the influence of a gravitational field—have contributed much to better understanding of the universe. Just for one practical example, Einstein's concepts gave a logical explanation for what had previously been considered rather screwball behavior on the part of the planet Mercury, the one nearest the Sun.

Thus, the tousled haired Princeton scientist, who had a penchant for turtle-neck sweaters and white sneakers, will continue to live on in the world around us.

In fact, every time you see the beauty of a red rose, remember that Einstein could express even such things as the color of a flower in one of his equations.

More than 500 teachers trained at Clarke School for the Deaf, Northhampton, Mass., serve the heard-of-hearing throughout the United States and in 20 foreign countries.

Light That Generates Vitamins, Test Tube Mink, Voice 'Phone Dialing Seen By 1960

By JOY MILLER

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—The day of test tube mink and voice telephone dialing is about to dawn.

With it will come hundreds of other technological products and advances to make life in 1960 easier, healthier, longer.

In a major economic study to be published this week by the Twentieth Century Fund, the fruits of technology are displayed in tantalizing detail. The book, entitled "America's Needs and Resources: A New Survey," is the product of five years of research by J. Frederic Dewhurst and associates.

Here's its idea of what the average American family might have in another five years:

Joe has had a tough day at the office, although he's working only 37½ hours a week compared with the 40-hour average in 1955. He's had a 3 per cent salary increase too, with his family income now at $6,200 a year.

He comes home and switches on tinted lights to help his mood. Feeling tired he sits in front of a fluorescent light that generates vitamins in his body.

It's a cold day, but his home is comfortably warmed by a heat pump which sucks in air from the outside, compresses it to warm it and circulates it through the house—no fuel, no flames, no flues, no fire hazards. If it were summer, he'd just flick a switch and reverse the operation, cooling the house delightfully.

He's late for dinner but it doesn't matter. His wife simply pops a steak into a range that cooks with high-frequency radio waves. In 10 seconds it's done.

To complete the menu she uses fruits and vegetables that have preserved their right-off-the-farm flavor on the pantry shelf. A cathode ray has done the trick, reducing the need for freezing, canning and preserving.

She's feeling particularly elated today because the girls at the bridge club gave her mink coat a real looking over. She didn't tell them it was chemically treated sheepskin that looked, felt and lasted like real fur.

After dinner, they decided to invite friends in for three-dimension color movies. The small, simple attachment that converts both camera and projector was a real bargain, they think.

So Joe voice-dials the Smiths—just speaking the number into the transmitter. Bill answers—and the TV attachment on the telephone catches him putting on his coat.

"Going over to the hospital," he explains. "Mary had her gall stones pulverized by one of those ultrasonic machines."

"Oh," says Joe. "Well, we just wanted to show you some movies. My new 3-D camera works with magnetic tape that eliminates developing and printing. I can use it over and over by just wiping off the tape."

"That's not so much," Bill replies. "Wait until you see my personal sending and receiving radio. It's palm size and weighs less than two pounds, and it's good up to five miles."

"If you're just trying to show off," Joe comes back, "let me tell you about my new car. It prevents collisions electronically. Just turns the wheel or stops the car automatically if you're about to have an accident. And it has electronic steering for bad weather."

Joe could go on, but he wants to watch his wife start up the new gadget that replaced her washing machine. It vibrates the dirt out of clothes by sound waves.

Down on the farm, Joe's uncle finds things different too. His machines pick cotton with steel fingers faster than 40 men can do it, or dig potatoes and clean and load them too. Fertilizing no longer is a smelly job. It's done with odorless gases, liquids and granules.

And there's a bright new day in industry. Some automatic factories, with supervisor and maintenance personnel only, are operating in 1960. Electronic controls monitor machines, check quality and rate of production.

In mines, conveyor belts bring ore to the surface. Cross-country belts haven't arrived, yet, but there's a two-way carrier from Lake Erie to the steel centers of southern Ohio, carrying coal one way and returning ore and limestone.

AMERICAN MOTHER OF YEAR—Mrs. Lavina Christensen Fugal, Pleasant Grove, Utah, 75-year-old widowed mother of eight children, has been chosen the American Mother of the Year for 1955. She was a school teacher before her marriage and has been active in church and civic affairs. Her husband died 10 years ago.

Sixty-five per cent of the buildings on Okinawa, scene of the last big battle of World War II, have been rebuilt.

Cancer has killed 20 times as many Americans as lost their lives during three years of the Korean struggle.

Advance To Railroad

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP)—A 4¼ million dollar advance from Baltimore port loan funds for the Western Maryland Railway has been approved by the Board of Estimates and the City Commissioners of Finance.

The money will be used to finance truck and railroad shipment improvements at the Port Covington terminal of the railroad.

Geneticist Says H-Tests Could Cause Harmful Mutations

WASHINGTON, April 28 (AP) — Prof. H. J. Muller, Nobel Prize-winning geneticist, asserted this week that radiation from H-bomb tests could cause "tens of thousands" of harmful mutations in the next generation of Americans.

The Indiana University professor, in a speech prepared for the annual meeting of the National Academy of Sciences, said the mutations won't undermine the heredity of the entire U.S. population significantly, "but each individual harmful mutation is, however, an evil, and we have no right to dismiss it lightly.

"Therefore, we must base our case for the continuation of the (atomic) tests squarely on the fact that they are at the present stage necessary to prevent our being put at a military disadvantage. Only from a position of all-around strength, I think, can we finally reach a situation where general disarmament is feasible."

At the same time, Muller said Americans are receiving more radiation from X-rays and radioactivity in medical treatments than from all atomic and hydrogen test explosions.

"Most of the genetic damage from medical uses of radiation could be avoided if only physicians would admit its existence and take certain simple precautions to reduce it, such as shielding the reproductive organs, and limiting and keeping track of the total amount of exposure of each patient over many years," he said.

"It is largely this reckless attitude on the part of physicians which has influenced extremists to claim that nuclear explosions are harmless or even beneficial."

State Will Withhold Tax On Wages Starting July 1

The withholding income tax on salaries and wages of both residents and non-residents of Maryland will begin July 1, according to Comptroller J. Millard Tawes.

The rate of tax remains at 2 per cent but the personal exemption has been changed so that the taxpayer receives $800 for himself and a like amount for each dependent. Heretofore the personal exemption was $1,000 for the taxpayer and $600 for each dependent.

Under the withholding law, the comptroller stated employers are, in effect, agents of the state, and they must withhold the tax.

Employers are required to make quarterly reports on October 31, January 31, April 30 and July 31 of each year. Remittance of tax collected during the quarter is to be made with the reports.

Tawes explained that within a few weeks employers will be sent a booklet giving complete information on withholding and containing tax tables. This booklet will include a postcard which is to be completed and returned to the Income Tax Division. On the card the employer should indicate the number of exemption certificates required and the necessary forms will be sent him as soon after the card has been returned as is possible.

Upon receipt of the exemption certificates the employer should pass them out to all employes and each employe should complete his certificate indicating thereon the number of exemptions to which he is entitled under the law.

Tax tables to be circulated by the state are similar to tables used by the federal government, except that the amounts to be withheld for Maryland will be much less than federal withholding due to the lower rates of taxation under the Maryland Income Tax Law and the higher exemptions.

In addition to the tax tables an employer using mechanical accounting may find it to his advantage to use a percentage method of withholding.

Tawes stated that the effect of withholding during 1955, is that employes will have approximately one-half of their 1955 income tax obligation met by withholding, while the remaining half will be due and payable at the time of filing the return on or before April 15, 1956.

After withholding has operated a full calendar year approximately all of the tax will be paid by withholding or no amount due when the return is filed.

Additional income not covered by withholding such as dividends and interest, will increase the tax obligation and may require the paying of some additional tax at the time of filing.

In some instances the taxpayer will receive a refund, as he does under the federal law, the comptroller said, then added that Maryland tax tables have been designed to make the tax withheld approximate the actual amount due as near as possible.

The comptroller made clear that under the law a single taxpayer having a gross income of $1500 or more during the year of which $500 is from sources not subject to withholding would have to file a declaration of estimated tax. He further stated that married taxpayers with gross incomes of $2500 or more would have to file declarations when they receive at least $500 from sources not subject to withholding.

The first declaration of estimated tax for the year 1955 will be due on or before September 15, 1955.

The comptroller also mentioned that the rate of tax to be paid by corporations was increased by the recent session of the Legislature from 4 per cent to 4½ per cent, effective for 1955.

Times-News Gets Award For Safety

The Times and Alleganian Company of Cumberland is among 37 newspaper managements awarded a certificate of merit by the American Newspaper Publishers Association for safe driving in 1954.

Honored for completing the year without an accident, the company operated five vehicles about 6,100 miles per month.

Last year the Times-News ranked tenth in the association's safety report.

In making the announcement yesterday, the association said 21 daily newspapers won prizes in its 14th annual safe driving campaigns.

Participating were 417 newspapers. They operated 7,719 vehicles 148,363,118 miles with 2,670 accidents for a new low rate of 1.80 mishaps per 100,000 miles.

A certificate of merit also was awarded to the Herald-Mail of Hagerstown. Winners included newspapers in Canada and Alaska.

LaVale Baptist Church Will Observe Fifth Anniversary

LaVale Baptist Church will observe its fifth anniversary Sunday, according to Rev. C. F. Frith, pastor.

The church was organized into a congregation and accepted into the Maryland Baptist Union Association on April 13, 1950 under the leadership of Rev. J. C. Ledbetter, missionary under the state board.

The Sunday School had its beginning two years earlier, sponsored by Second Baptist Church of Cumberland. The Allegany Bowling Alley was purchased for the church building.

The building has since been improved by remodeling, largely in the interior. There is a new heating system, new rooms, departments for classes, a belfry with a modern tape model public address system, and hearing aids in the pews.

The church membership has grown from 114 when its first and present pastor was called in November 1950 to a total of 219. Fifteen persons will be baptized into the church Sunday. The Sunday school enrollment is 243.

Features of Sunday's program will be a message by Dr. C. T. Thomas, executive secretary of the Maryland Baptist Union Association, at 10:45 a. m. service.

A picnic dinner will be shared by the congregation in the social room at noon. In the afternoon a brief service will be held, during which a history of the church will be read by Mrs. John D. Coleman, church clerk.

This week Rev. Mr. Frith submitted to the Rural Church Development Program of the Baptist Church a report of progress made in the past 12 months.

A contest for the most progressive rural church is being sponsored and Rev. Mr. Frith feels that his church has a good chance to win or place high.

Local Marines Win Promotion

Two members of the inspector-instructors staff of the Sixth Special Infantry Company, Marine Corps Reserve, at the Cumberland Naval and Marine Reserve Center have been promoted, according to Capt. Henry W. Tubbs, inspector-instructor.

Corporals Gerald Linn and Richard C. Weber have been advanced to sergeants.

Sgt. Linn, a LaVale resident, has had five years service in the Marine Reserve, leaving here with Company D when it was called to federal service in July 1950.

Before joining Capt. Tubbs' staff in September he was a clerk at the LaVale Barracks of State Police.

Weber, a member of the regular Marine Corps, has two and one-half years service in the corps. He is a native of Florida and lives in Cumberland.

Kimble Says ESB Trip, Lunch Fund Can Build Office

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP)—The new head of Maryland Department of Employment Security said today a $234,000 fund that has been used for travel and luncheon expenses should be used instead to build a headquarters for the department.

It was one of the changes ex-State Sen. Robert Kimble recommended as he began an investigation into agency operations.

Kimble also said he has:

Ordered revocation of credit cards top officials of the department have been using for meals and telephone calls.

Ended expense account practices he said discriminate against low salaried personnel and favor high officials.

Issued instructions that normal personnel channels are to be used in hiring employes.

Kimble earlier this week took over as head of the department, succeeding Daniel E. Klein as chairman of the Employment Security Board. Klein and John L. Estes, Cumberland, have resigned from the board. The third member is Charles H. Borcherding Sr. William H. Mahaney has resigned as administrator of the employment department.

An investigation of the board's former operations was launched at the governor's request.

The $234,000 special administrative fund has been used by the Employment Security Board to buy two cars and to cover $6,000 in luncheon and travel expenses.

The fund was built up through fines and fraud penalties against employers required to contribute to the unemployment compensation program.

Kimble said his action was not to be construed as a criticism of the way the fund has been used in the past six years.

He said his suggestion that the fund be used for a headquarters building would save $100,000 a year for rent in Baltimore. Under his proposal the department's headquarters and the Baltimore field office would be consolidated.

As another possibility, he said the fund might be turned over to the State treasury at the end of each year.

IOOF Lodge Thanked For CARE Package

Thanks for a CARE package that arrived at a most opportune moment has been sent to Chosen Friends Lodge 34, IOOF, this city, by a German widow.

The letter from Mrs. Margarete Cohn of Weilheim, Germany, was received this week.

She said: "We received your CARE package and were happy to get it. From the bottom of my heart I thank you. When one feels down and out, then it is that somebody comes along and does something good for you. At the time I hadn't anything to do and wished for work.

"With the coming of your package, a call also came for me to go to help nurse a sick person.

"I want to thank you again from my heart for your package and kindness in thinking of me."

After the close of World war II, a program of assistance for Odd Fellows, their widows and orphans in Germany and Austria was started through the efforts of Edward W. Hearn, Baltimore, past grand patriarch of the Grand Encampment of Maryland, IOOF, who was an officer in the armed forces of the United States, stationed in those two countries.

This program was instituted in conjunction with CARE, Inc., and contributions solicited from encampments throughout Maryland to provide the packages, with the assurance they would go to persons designated by the encampment branch of Oddfellowship.

Although this assistance program was started by the Grand Encampment of Maryland, it since has been adopted by the Sovereign Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows and is worldwide in scope.

Hearn's efforts were recognized several years ago by the order and he was presented a citation and medal from the Sovereign Grand Lodge. He has been chairman of the CARE program of the Sovereign Grand Lodge for several years.

station, to be leased by the American Oil Company, at the corner of Marshall and Frederick streets.

Urging the granting of the application were Albert A. Doub and Leslie J. Clark, who said the lot is only 100 feet from the business line.

But residents of the area vehemently objected to the encroachment of business.

A number of residents said they were assured when they built there some 20 years ago that the area was to be strictly residential.

The board pointed out that this protection did not come from the city's zoning ordinance which was passed November 27, 1944, and that any such restrictions would have to have been in the deeds.

The application was unanimously disapproved by the board.

During the discussion, Charles Paul Gardner proposed and then withdrew a recommendation to the Planning and Zoning Commission that Frederick Street, from Linden to Pearre, be made a business zone, and that the same be done for Bedford Street from Henderson to Pearre.

Approved by a two-to-one vote was the application of Morris Kline, 700 North Mechanic Street, to build a jug and grocery store on Lots 24-26 of Long Addition on Frederick Street.

The land, he said, is located just this side of Tom's Cleaners at 937 Frederick Street.

Granted were appeals taken by Francis Crabtree, 810 Shawnee Avenue, and John H. Miller, 108 Oak Street.

Joint Salvation Army Meeting Set Tonight

State Jaycees Open Convention Here Tonight

The state convention of the Maryland Junior Chamber of Commerce opens here today with about 150 delegates from various cities expected to attend.

Delegates will begin registering at convention headquarters at the Fort Cumberland Hotel this afternoon. A social gathering will be held at the Herman Room of the Queen City Brewing Company tonight.

The first business session will be held Saturday at 10 a.m. in City Hall auditorium. After lunch at the Fort Cumberland Hotel the business session will resume at 2 p. m. Officers will be elected during the afternoon.

At 6:30 p. m. Saturday a cocktail party will be held at Ali Ghan Shrine Country Club to be followed by a dinner and dance starting at 7 p. m. The convention will end after a business session Sunday at 10 a. m.

Truck License Deadline Near

Tomorrow is the deadline for using old Maryland license tags on trucks, cabs and other commercial vehicles.

The office of Tax Collector J. W. Close at the Court House has new Maryland tags for privately-owned and operated trucks and farm trucks. His office has been selling between 150 and 175 sets of tags each day.

Hours in Close's office today will be 8:30 a. m. until 4 p. m. and tomorrow from 8:30 a. m. until noon.

The Frostburg Fire Department will hold its graduation exercises at College Park Saturday, May 21. The group will tour Andrews Air Force Base previous to the banquet.

William A. Wilson, instructor, is arranging a sightseeing trip in the College Park area. The Frostburg firemen have gone to College Park for graduation the past three years.

U. S. Foreign Aid Switches To Asia

Some members of Congress will be cool toward President Eisenhower's request for $3.5 billion to spend on military and economic aid to foreign nations during the 1956 fiscal year. Others will be ready to go along on the military part of the program but will want to whittle down economic aid as far as possible.

Newspaper headlines that competed with that over the account of the President's foreign aid message were significant. They disclosed that Admiral Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, and Walter S. Robertson, assistant secretary of state for Far Eastern Affairs, had taken off for Formosa for talks with Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, disclosed a steadily deepening crisis in South Vietnam, and indicated there is a split among the American military experts on whether the atom bomb should be used to defend Quemoy and Matsu.

What the headlines assert in black type is what the President said in his message—that "the immediate threats to world security and stability are now centered in Asia." That is why "the preponderance of the funds" he is requesting for foreign aid will be made available to the 15 nations making up "the arc of free Asia." It will be used to meet the threat of Communist aggression and Communist subversion in those countries.

Is it wise to spend these billions in this way? Despite the inevitability of the charge that the President has sponsored another "giveaway" program, Congress will probably decide that more money will have to be added to the billions that have already been spent to help free nations. This is not exactly insurance against Communist aggression, because there is no assurance the Communists will be deterred by this program.

A bulwark against Communist attack has been set up in Europe, and European nations restored to economic health are bearing some of the burden of maintaining that barrier. There is no crisis in that quarter, and this country can now devote its efforts to the danger area.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Two Men

Recently I went up to the City College of New York to debate the more or less moot question of whether Communists should be permitted to teach in the schools. All the time I was there I could not help but think of two men, both of whom had been students of this school, Julius Rosenberg and Dr. Jonas Salk.

Both originated in identical environments. Both were New York boys of Jewish parentage. One was brought up on what is called the Lower East Side; the other in the Bronx. I know what their lives were because I spent my boyhood in the same atmosphere. Some of the younger sociologists would call us slightly underprivileged which we never were, but that is another matter. We all lived in crowded tenements, in close quarters. We were all products of the New York City public school system; we all went to public high schools. Our parents made great sacrifices to provide for our education. What we lacked in wealth, we made up in enthusiasm and earnestness.

Julius Rosenberg died in the electric chair, a traitor to his country. Dr. Jonas Salk is honored not only for his persistent scientific work which may save millions of lives but even more for his unerring self-sacrifice, his humility, his profound sense of service.

Both came from the same environment. Both went to the same free college. Both were of an age, a few years apart, and may have had the same instructors. What had made the difference?

When I was a student, no one would think of attending a public gathering without a jacket and a necktie, nor would we in any manner show disrespect for our elders. And we knew that they were our elders. We accepted it as an indisputable fact that if a man spent 20 or more years working in a field and achieved the eminence of being a professor in an outstanding university, he knew more about his subject and was likely to have better judgment than a sophomore.

Not that we did not argue and differ and debate but we dared not cross the line where difference of opinion became boorishness and disrespect. The emphasis was on respect. And it was a twosided emphasis. The professor who did not hold the respect of colleague and student was asked to leave—and there were no two ways about that.

In my day, there was no catering to youth; the converse today is probably one of the principal causes for what is called juvenile delinquency. Young people require discipline, self-discipline, if they are capable of it; external discipline, if that is the only way. The assumption that because a person is young, his indiscretions, impudence and lack of integrity need to be tolerated has not proved itself to be correct.

Julius Rosenberg did not rebel against conformity. He became a spy by free choice as an act of supreme wickedness. Dr. Salk, as a researcher, has not conformed intellectually because he does not accept the unknown as unknowable, which is an act of non-conformity. The difference is whether one has a sloppy mind or a precise mind. The sloppy mind thinks in terms of cliches, slogans, vulgar tricks of words. It is impossible to work in science with a sloppy mind.

Both Julius Rosenberg and Dr. Salk made science their life work. But Julius Rosenberg became a spy and a traitor as despised in American history as Benedict Arnold; Jonas Salk is devoting his life to experimental research to find cures for physical illness and has become as honored, in a short time, as Dr. William Gorgas who rescued man from yellow fever. The corruption of the human mind and spirit cannot be defended by shouting the word, "democracy."

A young lady, in anger, demanded of me, if I really meant it when I said that I would not defend what I did not believe. She wanted to know whether I would not defend the right of a man to say what I believed to be wrong.

She was outraged when I said that I would not. I gave this example: Suppose a speaker advised a body of students not to register for the draft. Would I defend his right to do it. I would warn the students that this man is leading each one of them to a prison sentence.

Burma's Premier U Nu Quizzes Chou About Releasing American Prisoners

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON — American Prisoners — Premier U Nu of Burma had some private talks with Chinese Premier Chou En-lai at Bandung about release of the 15 American fliers held in Red China. Nu brought up the subject at the secret request of Secretary Dulles. Chou made no promises, in fact denounced the State Department for refusing to permit American relatives to visit the prisoners as he has invited them to do. This columnist still believes Red China will turn the American fliers loose but not until it sees a good chance to make propaganda.

Inside the White House — Mamie was so embarrassed when a guest showed up at a White House reception wearing exactly the same design dress as hers that she has laid down the law to her dress designer. She got a promise from her designer to make no duplicates of any dresses or hats designed for her. . . . Adm. Robert Carney has been trying to kiss-and-make-up with Eisenhower ever since he was bawled out for talking to newsmen. Carney has tried repeatedly to get to see Ike, but can't get past the White House door.

War Clouds — Secretary of Defense Wilson has secretly increased the ammunition stockpile goal. He's taking no chances on another ammunition shortage in case of war. . . . The Kremlin bosses have built themselves half a dozen secret, underground air-raid shelters several miles outside Moscow. No plans have been made, however, to evacuate the populace. . . . Civil Defense Administrator Val Peterson is looking for a cheap, two-dollar gas mask that every American can afford to keep on hand at all times in his own home. . . . Red China is rushing work on a secret atomic-bomb installation in remote Sinkiang Province. Nearly 100 Russian advisers are directing the project in order to develop cheap power to industrialize China. . . . It was carefully hushed up, but an experimental atomic rocket from the Los Alamos proving grounds misfired and almost caused an incident with Mexico. Though it landed on a Juarez graveyard, it exploded in the air and no damage was done. . . . Tests with mice have shown that it's 10 times more likely than previously indicated that A-bomb radiation will produce abnormal children.

Joe's Rescuer — Times have changed regarding Joe McCarthy. It was only a short three years ago that he made the major spiel before the American Society of Newspaper Editors. Most editors than clamored for more news about Joe's witch-hunting.

In contrast, Sigma Delta Chi was holding a business meeting to prepare its annual breakfast meeting for visiting April editors. Washington big-shots were to be invited, and the list of VIP's from the Supreme Court down was called off to see which member would put up the $4 necessary to invite a very important person.

Finally Chairman Jim Warner called the name of Sen. Joe McCarthy. There was a dead silence -- followed by laughter. No one wanted to buy bacon and eggs for the once headlined senator from Wisconsin.

"All right," said Chairman Warner, "we'll lay that one aside for a while and go on with the list."

Then a voice piped up in the rear of the room in a last minute rescue of Joe: "I'll buy McCarthy."

It was Charles Frederick, a hearing examiner of the Federal Communications Commission which has been so ardently following McCarthy policies of late.

Diplomatic Pouch—Reports from China indicate that most of the jailed American fliers have been tortured into signing phony confessions. . . . American air and naval bases in Spain are far behind schedule. U. S. officials have reports that Dictator Franco has secretly encouraged Spanish workers to slow down construction in order to help him win his argument with the State Department over American aid. He thinks Spain should get considerably more grant aid than it's been given. . . . Egypt's strong man, Premier Nasser, has turned down an invitation to visit the U.S.A. Nasser told the American embassy that until the United States changes its policy toward Israel he won't even consider such a trip. . . . Word has leaked back to congressmen that State Department Security Chief Scott McLeod has been comparing them with skunks.

French Sour On U.S. — Relations between France and the United States have reached their lowest ebb since V-E Day....The French are bitterly opposing American policies in their once-great colony of Indochina, were infuriated when Secretary Dulles ordered Ambassador Conant in Germany to end occupation rule without even waiting for France to join in the ceremony. . . . U. S. Ambassador Dillon in Paris has cabled the State Department that something must be done in a hurry to heal this potentially disastrous split in French-American policy. . . . A big reason why France is stubbornly going ahead to manufacture its own atomic and hydrogen bombs, he says, is that the French feel they are being treated like a third-rate power, not an ally.

Washington Pipeline — President Eisenhower has accepted an invitation to attend the annual governors' conference in Chicago August 10. . . . Bridge experts at a recent tournament in Miami, believe it or not, smiled at their partners' boners. The experts had agreed in advance to accept as partners all comers making contributions to the American Cancer Society's 1955 crusade. The event was sponsored by the American Contract Bridge League. . . . The Democratic National Committee keeps a running record of Eisenhower policy changes. It's kept in loose-leaf notebooks and is called "The Ikelopedia"! . . . The State Department has fired three security risks in the past year. . . . Portable tape recorders are being considered by the National Park Service as a means of doing away with tourist guides at parks, historical areas, and museums. The colorful guides who have taken visitors through the parks for years would be fired and visitors would hear points of interest described through tiny earphones resembling hearing aids. Secretary McKay is certainly saving money! . . . The General Services Administration is flabbergasted over the result of its secret inventory of land and buildings owned by agencies of the federal government. It found the value of this property runs into the tens of billions of dollars.

Problem Of "Colonialism" Raises Serious Questions

By David Lawrence

PARIS — Somebody might well write a guide for Americans entitled, "How Not To Make Enemies and Alienate Allies." It might start with a chapter on the loose employment of the word "colonialism." This word too often is bandied about carelessly with the implication that a nationalist movement seeking self-government or independence must suddenly be heeded irrespective of whether it will produce chaos internally and upset the country's economy.

France has a serious problem in Tunisia, but there is a tendency in the United States to link it with all other nationalist movements in other countries and to argue that it's a trend of the times.

What is astonishing is that no similar solicitude seems to be expressed concerning the peoples who already have had their independence but have had it taken away from them by Soviet dictatorship. Moscow, of course, counts on the superficial and uninformed attitudes of Westerners and hence sows the seeds of propaganda throughout North Africa and elsewhere in an effort to cause a split between Paris and Washington.

North African Problems

It is a curious thing, but many Westerners — including Americans —never seemed to devote much thought to Tunisia until the "cold war" gave the issue momentum. At the very time when France needs the economic support which Tunisia can give her and when it is essential that America's allies not be disintegrated from an economic standpoint, the drive is on to plague the French government with more problems than it can possibly solve in North Africa.

Under pressure from the outside world, a plan has been drawn up by the authorities here in conference with Tunisian representatives which would give Tunisia self-government. It goes farther than any previous proposal to grant autonomy to the Tunisian people. It gives them complete control over their domestic affairs but enables them to lean on the French government for international defense and security.

The problems that lie ahead, however, are more difficult than those which have been solved. Thus, there are about 3,600,000 Moslems in Tunisia but there are 330,000 Europeans, mostly French and Italians. The latter include those who are responsible for most of the economic progress of the country which they now will see regulated by Moslems without similar experience. Fears are emerging that confiscation of private property will occur, and already there is to some degree a flight of capital to Europe from Tunisia.

Fertile Spot For Communists

How can these people who have lived together under French rule and under French legal codes suddenly achieve security or stability? A transition period with certain safeguards is envisaged, but it is a fertile spot for Communists to stir up the extremists.

The Communists have been maintaining in Budapest a radio station which every day has been broadcasting propaganda of a subversive character to Tunisia. Likewise, the Communists have stirred up unrest in Algeria and Morocco. They recognize all too well that North Africa has become the "soft underbelly of Europe" and that "America's chances to maintain firm air bases along the Northern coast of the African continent are related to the political conditions existing there. If pro-Communist factions control local governments, this could upset American military strategy.

Under the circumstances, it was unwise for the Truman-Acheson administration to fall for the argument that the Tunisian question should be brought before the United Nations. In May 1952 this almost caused a break between the Pinay government here and the Washington government.

Also, just why nationalists from North Africa trouble spots are permitted to roam around the United States, spreading their propaganda, without a checkup on the validity of the passports they hold is something to which various French officials here would like to know the answer.

American Policy Discussed

This correspondent talked at length with a high French official and discussed American policy with respect to the defense of Formosa and non-recognition of Red China, only to be met at the end with this comment: "I now understand why America wants us to side with her, but can you tell me why then America shouldn't understand our problem in Tunisia?"

It's the same old problem—allies are won and held by sympathetic understanding and not by allowing extraneous influences to drive a wedge between them on questions that are not paramount. For, until the "cold war" is over, many questions that have gone unsolved for a long time could really be put on the shelf in the face of the larger necessity of maintaining strong allies whose cooperation is essential to the winning of that "cold war."

Soviet Russia doesn't seem to be in any hurry to lift the yoke of "colonialism" from Latvia, Lithuania, Estonia, Poland, Czechoslovakia, Hungary, Romania and Bulgaria, where separate nationalities are held under the tyranny of occupied armies.

Why, then, should France now be pressured to give up overseas territories which have never been independent nor shown a capacity for complete self-government? That's the question they ask here.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Politics is no spot for a man with a thin skin and no protective coloring. There were neither Democrats nor Republicans when George Washington was accused of dictatorism, monarchism and sleeping with his shoes on.

While Caesar's wife's husband is never snow-balling distance above suspicion we feel the March attack on Ike was wasted as smiles on window dummies.

First from all, it was as premature as a cackle in an egg. Second, it's bad politics to make a statement you can't prove.

Third, although the ladies are in politics they don't want to be included in politics. It's a far cry from Dolly Madison to Eleanor Roosevelt but tears are a woman's privilege.

Both Dollies were in government doohickies to their necks. And making waves.

But we cannot see how you could make capitol gains of the incident of Mamie and another gal wearing the same dress to a party. There were two dresses of course but they were pod-like in their similarity.

Mamie didn't have the superb sang froid of Eleanor. If that had happened to Eleanor she would have looked like she wasn't wearing it.

Just like the old lady who practiced looking at the conductor as if she had paid her fare.

We score the March campaign as trying to make the extra point before a touchdown.

Mr. Truman gives you an overall picture of Ike's power. Harry doesn't want to tangle with Ike. He just wants to run against his next vice president.

But it's still too early to squander rumors in riotous campaigning. A watched kettle never boils and can spring a leak.

Covering A-Bomb Test

By Bob Considine

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (INS) — It's easy to cover an atomic bomb test if your system doesn't ask for a little sleep every three or four days. Nod your drowsy head just once, after spending a couple of sub-arctic nights on Yucca Flat, and you'll never win a Pulitzer prize. Conk off during a six-hour briefing on thermal effects on plastic doorknobs, in a hot and airless auditorium the next day, and your card in the Atombombwatchers Society will be picked up.

Here's the schedule of a fellow I know who came out for Operation Cue, the atomic test named in honor of all reporters with a misspent youth:

5 p. m. — Learns that the scheduled test for the next dawn was postponed the previous Wednesday, but the fellow who was supposed to let him know if there was a postponement couldn't get the hotel on the phone. And the management had banked dice tables against all doors, to keep the people from venturing out.

5:01 to the following dawn — Celebrates fact that the test has been postponed and he doesn't have to miss a full night's sleep.

Dawn to 9 a. m. — Celebrates some more. Can't remember just what it is he's celebrating. Wonders whether he dreamed he was playing 10 dollar chips on "the field" for the past two hours. Feels pockets numbly. Realizes it wasn't a dream.

New Eyeballs

9:01 to 9:02 — Cold showers and a fresh set of eyeballs.

9:30 to 12:30 — Briefing by Dr. Cramswell Chumley on radiation effects in seventh generation of newts found lurking in palms during Bikini tests.

12:30 to 12:35 — Nourishing lunch of a double double martini and a shot of morphine.

12:36 to 6:30 — Briefing by Dr. Emmaline Quagmire on mass feeding of St. Bernards in event of radioactive fall-out over the Brenner Pass.

6:31 to 10:30 — Celebrates not being at briefing. Looks out window during Liberace show at Riviera and decides there can be no test at dawn. It's snowing. Friend races by, says "Come on, the busses are leaving for Yucca Flat." Says, "Look, snow." Friend says, "That's Liberace's new sequin tails, stupe, come on."

2:30 a. m. — Steps out of steam-heated bus at News Nob, Yucca Flat, and immediately freezes into a stickless good humor. Remembers before becoming frozen that pongee shorts no outfit for dessert at night. Thaws out with aid of civil defense worker, who pours five gallon tin of hot coffee over his head.

2:31 to 4:28 — Tries to hear instructions on what to do when bomb goes off. Can't hear because of charter of teeth. Tries to light box of matches for warmth. Given stiff rebuke by NBC, CBS, ABC, FCC, AEC and FCDA.

Curls around a Joshua tree for warmth. Freezes to it in grotesque position, like appendage. Is sustained only by knowledge that when bomb goes off it will cast a warm glow for miles around and thaw him loose.

4:28 — Man on the loud speaker says, "Oops, sorry, no bomb tonight. Good-night."

Speech On Health

4:29 — Truck runs over Joshua tree, breaking him loose. Misses last bus pulling out for Las Vegas, 100 miles away. Gets lift from man going there via Barstow.

Noon — Arrive Las Vegas in time for Chamber of Commerce lunch with speech on health advantages of life in Las Vegas area.

1 p. m. — Gets to hotel room, falls in bed and just hits pillow, sound asleep, when phone rings. Its old J. P. in the New York office, wants three-part series on newts, past and present, by 3 p. m. at the latest.

3:01 — 10:30 — Celebrates finish of newt series and fact that test probably can't be held on account of bad sandstorm. Learns he's been staring at brown wall, not sand storm. Barely makes bus headed for Yucca Flat.

Doctor Needs 'Sixth Sense' In Telling Patient Of Ills

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Physicians are criticized occasionally when they tell a patient he has murmur, leakage, or other type of heart disease. Young physicians must acquire that "sixth sense" about which patient can be told and which is better off when kept in the dark.

An Erie, Pa., reader insists that telling the truth is likely to create more harm than good through the anxiety and fear produced. This letter reminded me of an experience I had during my first years in practice.

A young married man asked me to listen to his heart and the examination showed a mild form of rheumatic heart disease. With reasonable care, the man could live the average life span and since he was apprehensive, I decided to bolster his spirits by minimizing the condition.

Two weeks later there were repercussions. Through the grapevine I heard that my patient had gone to another physician who was unable to understand how any medico could fail to recognize an obvious case of heart disease. In his opinion, I was a "dumb doctor."

The young man did not realize that the other physician was an alarmist and had the reputation of magnifying symptoms; he either was a pessimist or exaggerated the danger to make himself a hero when he produced a cure. At any rate, from that time on I made it a rule to discuss my findings with all patients or members of their family.

Mrs. Smith writes: "I don't know if anyone ever disagreed with you before but there is a first time for everything. I cannot agree with you that activity rather than rest is a better cure because I would not be here today if I didn't know enough to lie down and rest every time I don't feel good.

"I had scarlet fever at age 13, encephalitis lethargica at age 14, a hammer toe removed at age 16, an eight month siege of rheumatic fever at 19, diphtheria at age 20, a uterine tumor removed at 23, hemorrhoids removed at age 27, both breasts amputated at age 44, and two additional fibroids removed at age 46."

Anyone with a medical history like this is entitled to be called an expert on medicine and surgery. Most of Mrs. Smith's ailments have nothing to do with rest or activity. I agree that rest is a good remedy and is essential in the treatment of many conditions.

The abuse of rest has the opposite effect by prolonging rather than shortening the period of convalescence. When a dog is sick it rests and primitive man did the same. But both would get up as soon as they began to feel better. In this respect, use rather than abuse provides the healing effects of rest.

TOMORROW: Ankle sprain.

CHILD'S PULSE

C. W. writes: Does a fast heartbeat in a 7-year-old mean trouble?
REPLY
It could, depending upon how fast the heart is beating and when the pulse was taken. The rate is faster in children than in adults and changes more quickly after exertion and excitement.

EYE PATCH

P. W. writes: What can be done about a pterygium on the eye?
REPLY
Nothing need be done unless this triangular patch of tissue that grows over the eyeball interferes with vision. It is here that the eye surgeon comes to the rescue.

THE MASCULINE TOUCH

C. V. writes: Is it all right for a woman to use a man's aftershaving lotion as a facial astringent?
REPLY
Yes, but she need not shave first.

To the limit of space, questions pertaining to the prevention of disease will be answered. Personal replies will be made when return stamped envelope is inclosed. Telephone inquiries not accepted. Dr. Van Dellen will not make diagnoses or prescribe for individual diseases.

Try And Stop Me!

By Bennett Cerf

There's a famous restaurant chain that boasts of 28 different flavors of ice cream on its menu—but the waitress often takes a dim view of this feature. Harvey Campbell, of Detroit, for instance, once demanded, "Before I order dessert, I'd just like for you to rattle off those 28 flavors for me."

"Nothing doing," retorted the waitress sharply. "I know gents like you. After I recited all of 'em you'd decide on chocolate or vanilla. Now which do you want?"

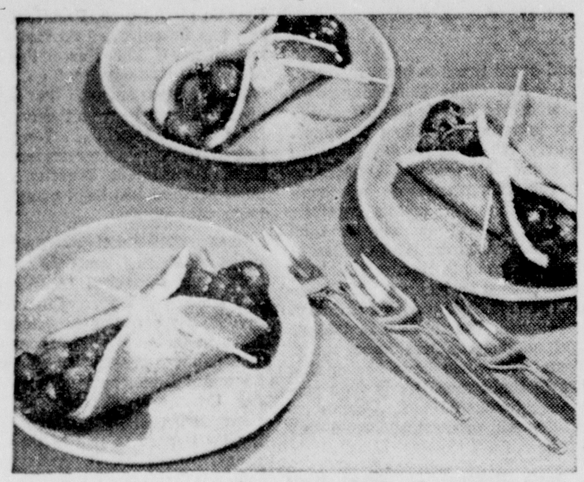
Skewered Cherry Roll-Ups Delicious, Jiffy Dessert



Nowadays they take a simple cotton, add a little lace or a handful of rhinestones, and turn it into a chic cocktail dress. You can perform the same miracle in your kitchen. Take a simple, homey pancake, for example. Who'd ever think it could become a dessert fit for the boss's wife. But it can! All it needs is that touch of glitter in the form of a delectable cherry sauce.

Yes, dark, plump, juicy, canned sweet cherries are in the "dress-up" classification. They're truly a dish for the elite! Because of their rich, succulent flavor and their royal color, they turn any food they're combined with into a unique treat.

Make it a practice to keep several cans of dark sweet cherries on hand for all sorts of entertaining emergencies and keep a jar of cherry sauce made up in the refrigerator. Then if guests drop in unexpectedly some evening and your cupboard's a Mother Hubbard, just slip out to the kitchen and stir up a batch of pancakes from your favorite pancake mix and before the coffee's done perking, you'll have a delicious snack ready to serve.

You'll find lots of uses for this cherry sauce for it's good over French toast, waffles, ice cream, cakes.

1 No. 2 can dark sweet cherries with juice; 1½ tablespoons cornstarch; 1½ tablespoons lemon juice; 3 tablespoons sugar; 1 recipe prepared pancake mix using 2 cups mix and 2 cups liquid.

Drain and pit cherries. Combine cornstarch and sugar thoroughly and add to cherry juice and lemon juice. Cook over low heat until thickened, stirring constantly. Add cherries and heat through.

Prepare pancake mix and make six cakes about 6 inches in diameter. Keep in oven until ready to serve. At that time, spread each pancake through center with cherry sauce, bringing opposite sides together and securing with a long skewer. Sprinkle tops with powdered sugar and serve warm.

Super Tuna Toastwiches

1 can (7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked
2 hard-cooked eggs, chopped
½ cup diced celery
¼ cup chopped olives
1 tablespoon chopped chives or onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
2 teaspoons capers
¼ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
16 slices bread
2 eggs, slightly beaten
⅓ cup milk
Butter or margarine

Combine tuna, eggs, celery, olives, chives or onion, parsley, capers and mayonnaise or salad dressing. Spread tuna mixture over 8 bread slices; top with remaining bread. Blend eggs and milk. Dip each sandwich in egg mixture, turning it to coat well. Brown sandwiches slowly on both sides in small amount of butter or margarine in frying pan. Serve at once. 8 toastwiches.

Tuna Dip Or Spread

1 can (7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked
1 container (8 oz.; 1 cup) cream-style cottage cheese
⅓ cup minced celery
¼ to ⅓ cup mayonnaise or salad dressing
¼ cup chopped green or ripe olives
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 tablespoon grated onion

Combine all ingredients; season with salt, if desired. Chill, covered, 1 to 2 hours to blend flavors. About 2½ cups.

Macaroni And Tongue Make Perfect Partners

Join up cans of macaroni with a jar of thin-sliced tongue. And you have a perfect partnership. You'll need 2 cans of the macaroni (in cheese sauce) for this. First cut the tongue into chunks or strips. Also chop up medium onion. Brown tongue and onion in butter or margarine in a skillet. Then stir in the 2 cans of macaroni. If desired, blend in ½ teaspoon of prepared mustard for extra seasoning too. Heat all well and serve to 4 hungry folks. (Note: 1 cup of cooked whole-kernel corn may be added to macaroni also; this makes it a complete meal in a dish.)

Frozen Food Tips

(Q.) How much fresh food should be put into a freezer to be frozen.

(A.) It is important to plan to put no more unfrozen food into a freezer than will freeze within 24 hours. Usually this will be about 2 or 3 lbs. of food to a cubic foot of capacity. Overloading slows down the rate of freezing, and foods that freeze too slowly may lose quality or spoil.

We'll supply you with all your Frozen Food Needs at substantial savings.

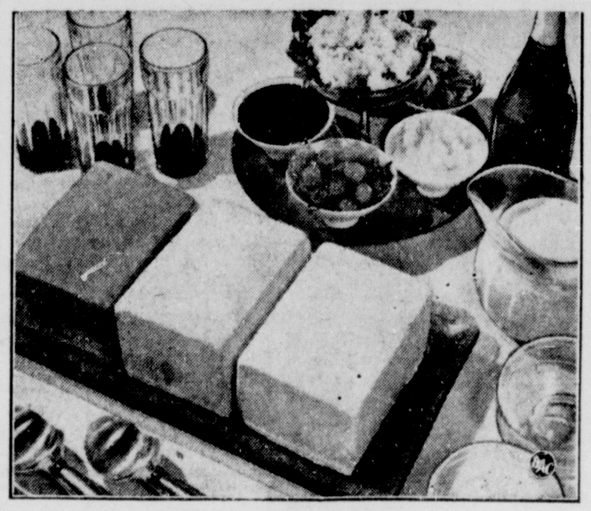
Pre-Packaged Ice Cream Convenient Dessert Packet



WITH ice cream a refrigerator staple in homes these days, this most popular of dessert can be varied innumerable ways to please individual preferences at serving time. For the next party at your home, let each guest follow his fancy and concoct his own special soda or sundae. This do-it-yourself soda fountain only calls for a choice of ice cream flavors and the trimmings. Ideas will be found elsewhere on this page.

Almost half of all ice cream produced in the United States comes pre-packaged, generally in pint and half-gallon cartons. So widely and conveniently is it sold packaged and in such a variety of flavors, that every party mood and theme can be met.

The hostess who is planning the ice cream soda fountain can easily shop for nuts meats, maraschino cherries, chocolate syrup and other favorite toppings at the same food store where she buys her ice cream. Grocery stores since 1952 have become the leading sellers of ice cream with drug stores second, restaurants third and confectionery stores fourth.

For the do-it-yourself ice cream spread, place chocolate, strawberry and vanilla ice cream on a tray. Have soda glasses and carbonated water and chocolate syrup handy for those who will dream up a fancy soda. Or there can be milk for those of a mind to make a frosted milk drink. For the sundae crew have sherbet glasses ready to take a scoop of ice cream and a topping of fruit, molasses butterscotch sauce and nuts.

Superconcentrate Fruit Juice Keep Well Without Refrigeration

Sweetened grape juice and apple juice, superconcentrated—two new food products that soon may be on the market — can be stored satisfactorily without freezing or refrigeration, the U. S. Department of Agriculture announces. Tests show that these full-flavored concentrates will keep for at least a year at ordinary room temperatures.

Dr. G. E. Hilbert, director of USDA's farm-product-utilization research, says that the excellent flavor and good storage behavior of these superconcentrates is a result of packing them hot—180 degrees Fahrenheit—and then cooling them quickly. They can be stored equally well in glass or in tin cans of the type used for single-strength fruit juices or frozen juice concentrates.

The new superconcentrates are made by processing fresh fruit juice first by an ultra-rapid method to recover its volatile aroma, or flavor "essence." When stripped of essence, the juice is concentrated. Then the essence is restored to give the concentrate full natural fruit flavor. In the case of grape concentrate, sugar is added to intensify the natural juice flavor and improve keeping quality. A four-ounce can of either concentrate, after reconstitution (with six cans of water), makes seven generous servings.

Swiss or Gruyere cheese added to Waldorf salad offers a deliciously different flavor you'll enjoy. To prepare four servings, wash and core four red Winesap apples and cut into bite-size pieces. Mix with two tablespoons lemon juice. Add one cup diced clery and diced Swiss or Gruyere cheese. Season lightly with salt and toss with one-third cup mayonnaise. Serve on crisp salad greens.

Tuna Salad Bowl

1 clove garlic, minced; 5 tablespoons salad oil; 1 cup small bread cubes; 2 tablespoons wine vinegar; 1 small head lettuce, shredded; 1 can (7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked; 1 medium-sized carrot, shredded small onion, chopped; 1 pimiento, cut in strips; 1 teaspoon salt; 1 teaspoon chili powder.

Cook garlic in 2 tablespoons oil 1 minute; add bread cubes; toss lightly until bread is golden brown. Mix remaining oil with vinegar; reserve. Combine remaining ingredients. Just before serving, add toasted bread cubes and oil-vinegar mixture; toss lightly. Makes 4 servings.

Tuna Roll-Ups

2 cups packaged biscuit mix; 1 can (7 oz.) tuna, drained and flaked; 2 tablespoons drained sweet pickle relish; 2 teaspoons grated onion; ½ teaspoon salt; Dash of pepper.

Prepare biscuit mix according to package directions; roll or pat into 9-inch square on lightly floured board or pastry cloth. Combine remaining ingredients; spread over biscuit dough. Roll up, jelly-roll fashion; seal edges. Cut into 8 slices. Put slices, cut-side up, on greased baking sheet. Bake in very hot oven (450°F.) 10 to 12 minutes, or until baked and browned. Serve with Quick Chili Sauce:

Cook 1 onion, chopped, and ½ green pepper, chopped, in 2 tablespoons shortening 5 minutes. Add 1 can (8 oz.) tomato sauce and 2 tablespoons brown sugar. Simmer 10 minutes, or until vegetables are just tender. Makes 8 roll-ups.

Quick Corn Relish

1 cup drained, canned whole kerner corn; ⅔ cup sliced celery; 2 tablespoons chopped onion; 2 tablespoons diced green pepper; 1 tablespoon diced pimiento; ½ teaspoon salt; 4 tablespoons French dressing; 1 tablespoon vinegar; 1 bunch water cress, coarsely cut.

Combine all ingredients, except water cress; cover and chill several hours. When ready to serve, add water cress; toss lightly with fork.

Makes 8 servings.

Chicken Dinner—Prepared By The Bride

"When you can fry chicken to a T, you can set a fine table."

Such words of wisdom are the kind of advice many a fond mama will give her bride-to-be daughter at this season.

Needless to say, making gravy to go with chicken is also important in learning this way to a man's heart. For one dish sure to make a man smack his lips and beam on his bride is crisp golden-fried chicken—next to fluffy mashed potatoes—slathered with hot chicken gravy.

Happily, today's beginner cook has gravy made for her. It comes perfectly blended...in a can of condensed cream of mushroom soup (or celery or chicken). She simply heats soup in the skillet, with flavorful drippings from the fried chicken. And presto, there's the most savory gravy. Mashed potatoes also come without effort; either the frozen or dried kind give worthy results.

The method for chicken and gravy is as simple as this.

FRIED CHICKEN, PRESTO GRAVY

1 fryer chicken (2 pounds or more) cut up; Flour (seasoned with salt and pepper); ¼ cup shortening; 1 can (1¼ cups) condensed cream of mushroom soup (or cream of chicken or celery soup) ¼ cup water (or milk).

Dust pieces of chicken well with seasoned flour. Brown chicken in the hot shortening in a skillet. Cover pan and let chicken cook until tender. Uncover pan last few minutes of cooking to re-crisp bird. Remove chicken from pan; pour off all but 2 tablespoons of drippings from skillet; pour in soup and liquid. Heat and stir well to loosen browned bits in skillet. Serve gravy with chicken and mashed potatoes. Makes about 1½ cups gravy.

SMACK your lips and reach for a piece of that crisp-crusted chicken. Then pour some luscious gravy (just mushroom soup plus rich drippings from chicken) over buttery mashed potatoes (can be the frozen kind that only needs heating). Help yourself to corn on the cob too, and spring-garden relishes. There's a meal that any June bride can whip together; and serve with pride.

Jellied Tuna Soup

2 cans canned tomato juice
1 tablespoon grated onion
3 whole cloves
1 package lemon-flavored gelatin
1 can (7 oz.) tuna, drained and finely flaked
1 tablespoon lemon juice or vinegar
¼ teaspoon salt
Lemon wedges

Combine tomato juice, onion and cloves; simmer 3 minutes; remove cloves. Pour hot tomato juice over gelatin; stir until dissolved. Add tuna, lemon juice or vinegar and salt. Pour into 8-inch square pan. Chill until firm. Cut in cubes; serve in chilled bouillon cups with lemon wedges.

Makes 4 servings.

Keyser Church To Inaugurate Two Sunday Morning Services

KEYSER—Beginning Sunday, Calvary Evangelical United Bethren Church will be the first protestant church in the area to conduct two morning services of worship, according to an announcement yesterday by the pastor, Rev. Robert L. Bridgers. The first service will be at 9 a. m., with Sunday school at 10 a. m. and the second worship service at the traditional 11 o'clock hour.

Duplicate services, although new in this area, are not new elsewhere. They have been popular for several years in many sections of the country. Among the reasons for their popularity said Rev. Bridgers, are the following:

"1—A larger percentage of persons are able to attend church.

"2—Two smaller services create more of an intimacy with God rather than one large service with part of the congregation sitting in overflow rooms and balconies, causing the worshiper to become a spectator rather than a participant. Only one Sunday since September 1, could all of those present at the 11 o'clock worship service, sit in the sanctuary without the use of Sunday school rooms.

"3—Parking is not such an acute problem when two services are held.

"4—More people will be able to attend church during the warm weather months, and still have time for drives, outings, a day camp, etc."

Rev. Bridgers plans to make the 9 o'clock services particularly attractive to children, having a children's sermon and using a newly organized children's choir.

"This," concluded the pastor, "by action of the church council, will be an experiment of five months in duration, May to September. For the present time, the evening worship will be continued at 7:30 p. m."

Foster Bland Named Commissioner To Presbyterian Assembly

THOMAS—Foster Bland, a well known business man of Thomas, and an Elder in the Presbyterian Church was honored by Winchester Presbytery at a recent meeting by being elected a commissioner to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church, United States. The assembly meets in Richmond, June 2.

It has been several years since a representative from the Thomas and Davis charge has been sent to the General Assembly. John Raese of Davis and George Branner of Thomas were the last men to go to the General Assembly. However, the pastor of those two churches, Rev. Andrew B. Mann, has been elected to serve as a commissioner three times in the past 30 years.

Bland, who owns and operates a saw mill near Thomas was formerly employed as a mining manager for the Davis Coal and Coke Company. He was also a first aid instructor for the mines and for the American Red Cross, Tucker County chapter and also for the high school in Thomas. He will be accompanied to Richmond by his wife.

Are you taking part in community activities? The rewards are something you don't want to miss.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

I was surprised — but on second thought, I shouldn't have been — to learn that Catherine T., one of the busiest of the Powers Girls, is chairman of a civic committee for school improvement in the suburban community where she lives.

She became interested through her own children, and, "You know how it always is," she told me with her engaging smile. "Open your mouth and you're made chairman of the committee."

Catherine's crowded days of photographic and fashion show assignments, commuting, home, and family made me wonder how she has time to take on other responsibilities, but haven't you noticed? It always is the active, purposeful person that others choose to get things done, and this type of person gets them done, well.

Of course, Catherine's broad interests and willingness to do more than her part have much to do with her great charm and sucess. As we in the Powers School have always been so well aware, it takes more than beauty and poise to set a girl head and shoulders above her sisters. It takes as much of warmth of personality, interest in others — the various qualities we sometimes class together in the term out-going-ness. Somehow, even the camera has an eye for the difference between beauty with and without a heart to match.

Next time someone asks you to come to a meeting for a good cause, go, volunteer, and even open your mouth and become chairman of the committee. The people you meet and the satisfaction of accomplishing good together makes the effort truly rewarding in many ways.

YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE

You can achieve an appealing, resonant, sonorous voice — one that can be a vibrant attribute to charm and success — by reading the new booklet, YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE, which gives complete instructions on how to overcome such wearisome speaking qualities as tonelessness, dullness, and lack of proper modulation. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

Tomorrow — A drink for beauty.

Florida Salesman Waits 33 Years For His Inheritance

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla., April 28 (AP)—A real estate salesman, who waited 33 years for an inheritance under the peculiar terms of his father's will, has qualified at the age of 65.

Frank A. Swift said his inheritance amounts to about $565,000. After taxes he will have only about $140,000.

The money came from the estate of Frank B. Swift, founder of the Merchants Refrigeration Co. of New York and a member of the Swift meat packing family of Chicago.

The will provided that Swift could not inherit until his 65th birthday and then only if he had been gainfully employed for at least six months of every year since the death of the elder Swift in 1922.

In explaining his father's strange will, Swift said:

"I foolishly ran through a couple of million dollars when I was a young fellow and an executive in my father's company. Father and I had different opinions about certain things and as retribution my inheritance was withheld until today—33 years."

He said he had a small income from other family funds so that after working six months in a year, if he didn't like the job, he would quit. Two years were about as long as he held any job, he added.

In addition to selling real estate, he has worked as a census taker, a railroad steward and a camera factory worker.

West Germany Plans More Superhighways

BONN, Germany, (AP)—At a cost of around $900,000 a mile West Germany plans to add 62 miles a year to its Hitler-built superhighways for the next six years.

The four-lane highways were built by Hitler to connect the strategic areas of Germany. They served a double purpose of providing work for the unemployed and giving the Nazi army good communications lines to takeoff points for invasions.

West Germany now has over 1,300 miles of such roads.

A new law provides over 300 million dollars a year from road taxation to help finance the network extensions.

German transport officials hope that in 20 years the highway net will be more than doubled.

Coach John J. "Bobby" Cavanaugh's Fort Hill High School Sentinels took over sole possession of first place in the Bi-State Baseball Conference yesterday when they swamped Valley High of Lonaconing, 16-2, while Augie Eichhorn's Bruce High tossers were unsetting the previously unbeaten Beall High School Mountaineers at Frostburg by the score of 5-3.

The victory gave Fort Hill a 4-1 record while Beall dropped into a tie for the runner-up spot with Hyndman, each team having won two games and lost one.

While Wayne Murray was fashioning a five-hitter to register his initial triumph of the season, his mates pounded the offerings of three pitchers for 12 safeties and scored in every inning but the third. Fort Hill racked up nine of its 16 tallies in the second frame. Valley pitchers issued 10 bases on balls and Grover Fazenbaker was charged with the loss.

Eddie Parsons sparked the Fort Hill attack with a double and two singles while Clarence "Pooch" Lewis smacked a pair of singles. Valley's five hits included a triple by Johnny Johnson and doubles by Bill Moffatt and Ronnie Young.

Wilkinson Beats Beall

Bruce High spotted the Mountaineers two runs then scored three runs in the fourth and single tallies in the sixth and seventh to upset the league leaders in the Mountain City.

In the fourth after Bob Ahern, freshman outfielder, drove in the runs that enabled Bruce to tie the score at 2-all, "Hank" Lloyd, Beall's starting pitcher, put the tie-breaking run on base and Ronnie Rice, his successor, wild pitched it home. In fact, wild pitches by Rice produced the Bulldogs, fourth and fifth tallies in the 6th and 7th frames.

Donnie Wilkinson went all the way for Bruce to notch his second win of the campaign. He gave up six hits. Lloyd was the loser.

Clyde Broadwater with a triple and single, Kenny Broadwater had two one-base knocks and Ahern rapped a double and single to head the Bruce offensive. The victors garnered eight hits.

LaSalle Tops Indians

LaSalle High's Explorers reeled off their third straight win by defeating the Mt. Savage High Indians at Mt. Savage by the score of 8-5.

Lefty Bill Roberts pitched shutout ball until the final inning when he weakened and Mt. Savage rallied for five runs. Joe Conroy replaced the southpaw but after he issued three bases on balls and hit a batter, Roberts came back to finish the game. Roberts fanned nine and gave up four hits in chalking up his second win of the season against one loss. Lefty Wayne Fleegle went the route for the Indians and was nicked for seven safeties and struck out seven.

Conroy banged a triple and single and Roberts had two singles for LaSalle which Bill Clauson garnered a two-bagger and single to head the losers at the plate.

Delock Checks White Sox, 3-1

Bosox Hurler Yields Only Three Safeties

CHICAGO, April 28 (AP)—Ivan Delock, the Boston Red Sox rookie right hander, fired a three-hitter to check the Chicago White Sox 3-1 today.

The 25-year-old hurler did not allow a hit until the seventh when the White Sox tallied their lone run.

Bob Nieman walked and Walt Dropo slashed a ground single past short for the first hit. Nieman took third as Faye Throneberry juggled the ball and then scored as Sherm Lollar smashed another hit off Owen Friend's glove.

Throneberry topped the eight-hit Boston attack off Jack Harshman with a single, double and triple.

Singles by Delock and Jim Piersall and Throneberry's triple tallied two runs in the third. In the fourth the Red Sox scored on Norbert Zauchin's double and Ted Lepcio's single.

SPORTS GRILL

by Pat Robinson

International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, April 27 (INS) — When we entered the hotel suite we started tenoring "The Hours I Spent With Thee Dear Heart" and, with a big welcoming grin, the best left-handed banjo-playing baritone baseball ever knew chimed in.

That, of course, was Jolly Cholly Grimm, manager of the Milwaukee Braves.

Unfortunately, Charlie has discarded his banjo along with his ulcers and is — he admits — living on top of the world. He said:

"Why not? I've got five starters — count 'em — Bob Buhl, Chet Nichols, Warren Spahn, Lew Burdette and Gene Conley. I've got a fine bench, a swell bullpen, and everybody's healthy. And I'm right on the heels of the Dodgers despite their 10 straight."

Asked if his team was better than last year, Charlie said:

"Sure it is. And my biggest gain is Bobby Thomson. The guy's hitting and driving in runs and there is nothing wrong with the leg he busted. He's even sliding like he always did.

"Another big improvement is Chet Nichols. Looks great, and pitching the way he did before he did his army hitch.

"My infield? Terrific. And I wouldn't swap Johnny Logan for any other shortstop in the game."

It seems Charley is very high on two of his young flingers—Humberto Robinson and Roberto Vargas.

Charley sounded as if he had a plethora of riches. "Well, my ulcers ain't been acting up so I guess I'm pretty well set."

Charley said he thought infielders today were as good as they ever were, considering the rabbit ball they must field and the handicap everybody has with the short fences.

And that reminded him of the time when he was an ace first baseman with the Chicago Cubs, one of the best the game ever had. The Cubs were playing Philadelphia in the old Philly bandbox, where a heavy bunt would get you a two-bagger off the wall.

"Well, Joe Oeschger was pitching for the Phils this day," said Charley, "You remember him? The guy who pitched the 26-inning tie for the Boston Braves against Leon Cadore of Brooklyn.

"This day somebody gets a triple, Rajah Hornsby hits one over the soap sign in right for a homer, Hack Wilson hits one over the left field fence, Gabby Hartnett singles and I get up.

"Bill Klem is umpiring and when I get to the plate I stretch out on the ground and Klem orders me up. I tell him it's no use because I know that hot-headed Oeschger is going to flatten me with the first pitch.

"Well, sure enough, he does, and I go down three more times and each time Joe misses my noggin by an inch. I give Klem a piece of my mind and what do you think he says? He says 'Grimm, if he hit you in the head it wouldn't hurt you.' Those were the days."

Bill Campbell Is North-South Semi-Finalist

Smith, Bisplinghoff And Gravely Victors

PINEHURST, N. C., April 28 (AP)—Medalist Dave Smith knocked off Walker Cup team player Dale Morey, 1 up, with a birdie in a 21-hole thriller today. This victory sent him into semifinals of the North and South Amateur Golf Tournament, along with Bill Campbell, Don Bisplinghoff and Ed Gravely.

It was a complete sweep for Southern players against the Midwesterners in today's play over the 7,000 yard No. 2 course of Pinehurst Country Club.

Tomorrow Smith meets Bisplinghoff, of Orlando, Fla., who recently won his third successive Florida state amateur title, the last two at medal play.

Bisplinghoff got past Glenn Johnson of Grosse Ile, Mich., 2 and 1, today.

Campbell, who next Thursday observes his 32nd birthday by heading the U. S. Walker Cup team in its departure for the matches at St. Andrews, Scotland, eliminated Alex Welsh of Rockford, Ill., last year's runnerup, 2 and 1.

Campbell's opponent over 18 holes tomorrow will be Ed Gravely, 34-year-old Rocky Mount, N.C., tobacco dealer, who had an unexpectedly easy time of it in whipping Ed Meister, Walker Cup alternate from Willoughby, Ohio, 4 and 2. Gravely and Meister were teammates on the Yale golf team in 1940.

Old-Timers In A-A

There are quite a few old-timers in the American Association this year. Ray Mueller takes top prize, though. He's 43. Ernest Nevel and Randy Gumpert are each 37, Marlin Stuart is 36 and Stan Rojek is 34. Most of the A-A boys are in the mid and high twenties.

Furgol, Harbert And Littler Tie In Nevada Golf

Trio Knotted At 69, Snead In 16th Place

LAS VEGAS, Nev., April 28 (AP)—Knocking three strokes off par, National Open champion Ed Furgol, PGA title holder Chuck Harbert, and newcomer Gene Littler tied for the lead with 69s today in the first round of the $37,500 tournament of champions.

Sam Snead, the favored so-called millionaire mountaineer from West Virginia, took a rear seat for the third straight year in this event, shooting a disappointing 74 to land in 16th place in the field of 21 professional golfers.

Playing under bright, warm skies over the Desert Inn Country Club course, which measures 7,102 yards and has par of 36-36—72, the wind-up of the first 18 holes found 11 players shooting under par.

Launching a bid for the $10,000 top money, Furgol made the tour with a card of 34-35—69. Harbert and Littler did it in 35-34—69.

Knotted at 70 were Lloyd Mangrum, Bob Toski, Pete Cooper, Jerry Barber and Eric Monti.

Rounding out the par breakers were Cary Middlecoff, Marty Furgol and Mike Souchak, all tied at 71.

Snead teed off the betting favorite for the third consecutive year, a rather surprising turn this time, since he finished poorly in the two previous tournaments at this gambling mecca in the West.

Snead got around the first nine in 37, bumped into a bogey six on the 10th and never was able to recover his fortunes. He added another 37 for his 74.

Yankees Lose Bill Skowron

Slugging 1st Sacker Suffers Leg Injury

KANSAS CITY, April 28—(INS)—The New York Yankees faced the possibility today of playing the rest of their western tour, which ends May 4, without first baseman Bill Skowron, the major leagues' leading hitter.

The 24-year-old slugger was sent back to New York by plane for an examination of his injured leg by Yankee physician Dr. Sidney Gaynor.

Skowron, hitting .451 and topping the American League with 18 runs batted in, pulled a muscle in his right leg running out a triple during yesterday's 13-to-4 Yankee loss at Chicago.

The former Purdue football star will be replaced by Joe Collins.

Yankee catcher Yogi Berra also may be withheld from the two-game series with the Kansas City Athletics. He suffered a bruised index finger on his throwing hand yesterday and was replaced by Elston Howard.

Paw Paw Beats Warriors, 7-3

Pirates Post First Victory Of Season

PAW PAW, April 28 — Coach Bob Wolford's Paw Paw High School Pirates crashed the win column for the first time this season by whipping the Wardensville High Warriors here today by the score of 7-3.

Bill Hamilton went the route for the winners and scattered six hits. Merriman and Jenkins, Wardensville pitchers, gave up only four hits but four errors and seven bases on balls caused their undoing.

Jim McDonald's two-run double in the fourth sent Paw Paw to the fore after Wardensville had taken a 3-2 lead.

Hamilton was accorded good support and three double plays nipped Wardensville rallies in the bud. Merriman was charged with the loss. Box:

Shoddy Fielding Aids Giants Bag 6-4 Win

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP)—Shoddy fielding by the St. Louis Cardinals during a four-run third inning helped the New York Giants to a 6-4 victory today before only 2,662 fans.

Right fielder Rip Repulski, third baseman Ken Boyer and shortstop Alex Grammas made errors during the Giants' big inning. New York used singles by Ray Katt, Whitey Lockman and Al Dark, a double by Don Mueller and the three errors to hand Harvey Haddix his first defeat.

Marv Grissom, taking over for Jim Hearn, made his eighth appearance in 13 Giant games and stopped the Cardinals after they had loaded the bases on singles by Wally Moon and Bill Virdon and a walk to Stan Musial with two out in the seventh. Repulski, whose gaudy .417 average dropped to .385 on four hitless attempts, lofted Grissom's first pitch to Mueller for the third out.

After the Giants picked up two more in the eighth for a 6-3 lead, Grissom again had to pitch himself out of deep trouble in the ninth when St. Louis loaded the bases with only one out on Joe Frazier's single, Moon's double and a walk to Musial. Frazier scored when pinch hitter Harry Elliott forced Musial at second but Billy Gardner threw out Red Schoendienst to end the game.

St. Louis got to Hearn for a run in the second on a bunt single by Schoendienst, a single by Boyer, an outfield fly and Katt's wild throw on Grammas' bunt. Two more came home in the third when Virdon singled and Musial hit his second homer of the year into the upper right field stands.

It was Hearn's third victory, a level he didn't hit last season until June 16. He has yet to lose this season.

Moorefield Tops Romney For 5th Win In Row, 9-0

Bauserman, Mongold Hurl Three Hitter

MOOREFIELD, W. Va., April 28 — Moorefield High School's baseball team kept its record unblemished by registering its fifth Potomac Valley Conference victory over the Romney Pioneers today by the score of 9-0.

Bill Bauserman, who started on the rubber for the Yellow Jackets, yielded one hit in six innings and got credit for the win. He struck out six. Harold Mongold gave up the other two hits in the final stanza.

Moorefield has scored 69 runs in five games while holding the opposition to a measly three tallies.

Coach Johnny's Paugh's conference leaders collected 12 hits, six of which were shared by Allen Bean, Don Peters and Jimmy Barr. The latter got the game's only extra base hit, a two-bagger.

Eighteen Moorefield players were used in the game.

The win gave the Jackets a sweep of the Romney series, having won the opener by the score of 9-1. Box:

SPORTS SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns, Central Press Sports Editor

THEY BETTER get that 1955 Kentucky Derby on the center stage soon for Nashua and Summer Tan have scared away so many entries that they might have to import Wes Santee to give the one-two colts a run for it.

At this point it appears the starting field for the May 7 classic will be the smallest since 1948 when another double-barreled entry, Citation and Coaltown, romped home one-two for Calumet Farm against but four other contenders.

The west coast hopefuls, plus a few who have been training in the Blue Grass country, still are in the picture and there are always some last-minute surprise entries but from the way Nashua and Summer Tan have dominated the prepping season even the colts themselves may beg off.

It costs $1,500 to start in the Derby and while that's chicken feed for some of the big stables, an owner with a so-so contender is going to think twice before he plops down that dough just to see his colors in the Run for the Roses.

Nashua, of course, isn't home free in the Derby nor is Summer Tan. There's always that unknown quality among Derby horses which sometimes doesn't present itself until the big day.

• • •

THE LARGEST field to start in the Derby was 22 in 1928 and the smallest fields were in 1892 and 1905 when only three answered the call.

The 1955 Derby entry list numbered 125, of which 107 raced as two-year-olds and only 73 won races.

One good sign this year, however, has been the winter and spring activity of the eligibles. By March 1 a total of 79 eligibles had been to the races, which has given the owners a good line on their chances of whipping what undoubtedly will be the two outstanding favorites, Nashua and Summer Tan.

At this stage it appears Nashua will be odds-on in the big race. And, for those statistically minded, in 27 Derbies there have been odds-on favorites of which 15 have won and eight finished second.

According to word from the trainers, neither Nashua nor Summer Tan will run in the Derby Trial May 3. This should help, for the other hopefuls will get a chance to show something and may wind up with a spot in the Derby.

If the Roses should draw 10 entries the gross pot of gold would be $152,500, which is a pretty good load to be shooting at, with or without Nashua and Summer Tan figured to grab the major shares.

Racing Fool Is Victor By Head In $25,000 Blue Grass Stakes

Moreno Pilots Winner, Jean's Joe Is Second

Munchausen Takes 3rd Money; Prince Noor Is Scratched

LEXINGTON, Ky., April 28 — (INS)—Cain Hoy Stable's Racing Fool, given a fine ride by Hank Moreno, staged a slashing finish today to win the $25,000-added Blue Grass Stakes—a Kentucky Derby test—by a head at Keeneland.

Jean's Joe was second and Munchausen was third.

The winner returned $8.00, $3.80 and $3.00. Jean's Joe $3.60 and $2.60 and Munchausen $5.60.

Favored Prince Noor was scratched in favor of the Derby Trial next Tuesday at Churchill Downs.

Speed Rouser and Munchausen set the early pace in the mile and one eighth event test for nine Derby hopefuls. The distance was only a furlong less than the Derby distance.

Racing Fool took the lead at the top of the stretch and fought off a challenge by Jean's Joe to win in 1:51 4/5—1 1/5 seconds off the record set by Correspondent in 1953.

Moreno, a Chicago native, also rode Dark Star to victory in the Derby in 1952.

Shoemaker Injured In Race On Coast

ALBANY, Calif., April 28—(INS)—Willie Shoemaker, leading jockey in the United States for the last two years, was injured today in a spill at the start of the first race at Golden Gate Fields in Albany.

Shoemaker was rushed to Herrick Memorial Hospital in Berkeley for X-rays. Preliminary examination indicated he was not seriously hurt.

The jockey somersaulted over the head of his mount, Marveco, and landed on his back directly in the path of the breaking field. Officials said one horse apparently struck him a glancing blow on the head as it raced by.

Chamrern Songkitrat Retires From Boxing

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP) — Chamrern Songkitrat, Thailand's bantamweight contender who was beaten in two fights for the world 118-pound title, has retired from the ring, Nat Fleischer said today.

The editor of Ring Magazine said the 26-year old boxer had written him that he was hanging up his gloves.

"Songkitrat told me that he was going to devote his time to his job which would include boxing instruction to the Thailand police," said Fleischer.

Carl Furillo's Circuit Wallop Beats Cubs, 4-2

Brooklyn Scores All Runs In 7th Inning

BROOKLYN, April 28 (AP) — The Brooklyn Dodgers, limited to one hit in the first six innings, scored four times in the seventh as Carl Furillo hit a three-run homer and whipped the Chicago Cubs 4-2 today.

Furillo's homer, his seventh of the season, overcame the lead the Cubs had gained when pitcher Bob Rush got a home run in the fifth.

It was Brooklyn's 13th victory in 15 games this season and the second over a Western club.

With Rush holding the Brooks in check, it appeared that his fifth-inning wallop would be enough to win the game. A single by Sandy Amoros in the fifth was the only Brooklyn hit before the seventh.

Duke Snider opened the inning with a double to right center and moved around to score on Roy Campanella's fly and Amoros' infield out. Then Hodges and Jackie Robinson came through with successive singles and Furillo smashed a homer into the left field stands.

Carl Erskine, seeking his fourth straight victory, started for the Dodgers and went six innings in a tight duel with Rush. He was lifted for a pinch hitter in the seventh and Clem Labine finished to get credit for the victory.

Sailor Lassoes Fish

CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—J. J. Kneller, chief boatswain's mate, thought he saw something in the water as he stood on a Navy pier.

He tossed a hastily contrived lasso and pulled out a 22-pound spot tail bass, measuring 37 inches.

Vanderbilt's Star

One member of the Alfred G. Vanderbilt racing establishment was probably very glad to see Native Dancer retire. Social Outcast's only claim to fame when the Dancer was around, was as the big Grey's workhorse, though he did win 5 races and $192,675 last year. Today the gelded son of Shut Out is the star in the Vanderbilt barn. His recent victories in the John B. Campbell Memorial at Bowie and the Lincoln Special brought his earnings to $164,275 for 1955.

Early Grid Sellout

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — When Notre Dame and Miami meet in the Orange Bowl stadium next October 7, a capacity crowd of 75,000 is expected to see the game.

University of Miami students, faculty members and officials will take 11,000 tickets, with 54,000 others available at $5 each and 10,000 in the end zones at $3 each.

Henry Weiner, University of Miami football ticket manager, estimates the game will gross $300,000.

Hartack Scores On Royal Briar

Willie Rides Four Winners At Laurel

LAUREL, Md., April 28 — (AP) — Jockey Willie Hartack gave the majority of the 10,251 fans at Laurel today a few anxious moments before he scored his third of four winners this afternoon aboard Ada L. Rice's Royal Briar in the featured Congressional Purse.

Odds-on choice with the crowd, Royal Briar barely eked out a head decision from Mrs. Henry A. Parr 3d's Small Coffee who was two and a half lengths to the good of Ella K. Bryson's Dr. Ben R. Royal Briar raced the six furlongs in 1/12 4-5 over a fast but dead track.

Royal Briar returned $3.40, $2.80 and $2.60 across the board.

The four boosted Hartack's total to 22 at Laurel and closed some ground on William Shoemaker who is riding at Golden Gate in California. Hartack has ridden 104 winners this season, and is closing on Shoemaker every day.

Hartack's other winners of the afternoon were Heorter in the second, Top-Lation in the fourth and Brandy's Last in the final race of the afternoon.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, April 28 (INS) — The thing that really broke up Mitzi Gaynor and 20th Century-Fox was when she didn't get to play with Fred Astaire in "Daddy Longlegs." Mitzi had dreamed of dancing with Fred.

Now it looks as if she'll get her heart's desire as soon as she finishes "Anything Goes" with Bing Crosby. She'll dance with Fred in "Dry Martini," his next picture.

Mitzi never looked better in her life. She's slim and she's plenty hot after "No Business Like Show Business," and next comes her picture with Bing and Donald O'Connor.

Marilyn Monroe made a stunning appearance before 2,000 publishers and editors attending the annual convention of the American newspaper publishers. I am very grateful to Marilyn for making this appearance since it was I who asked her to do it as a personal favor.

I am also happy to say that I have reason to believe her troubles with 20th Century-Fox will be ironed out very soon. She's had herself a great time in New York and now I believe she'll be ready to come back to California if the deal now pending is worked out.

Just heard from Anthony Quinn, who is in Mexico with "Seven Cities of Gold," that Mrs. Quinn (Katherine De Mille) had flown there for their wedding anniversary.

Tony gets another trip to Europe in July when he joins Kirk Douglas in "Lust for Life," the Van Gogh story. Tony plays Gauguin, Van Gogh's closest friend, and Kirk, of course, is Van Gogh. The friendship between these two artists began when neither could sell a picture. They lived together in Arles, France. They argued so violently that Van Gogh ran Gauguin out of their house with a butcher knife, causing the natives to believe he was even crazier than they had thought.

A very cute test was made of Elizabeth Montgomery for the second lead in "Too Late My Love." Mike Curtiz filmed the test when he was in New York and it's in the form of an interview with Mike, himself.

Mike says, "What's your name?"

She replies, "Montgomery."

He replies, "I once directed a man named Montgomery. His name is Robert Montgomery. Is he any relation to you?"

Says Elizabeth, "He's my dad."

Elizabeth is not only photogenic, but she has been a hit in many television shows. I can't believe she's grown up. I remember when Bob Montgomery telephoned to tell me he had a baby girl.

La Belle Swanson, like Tennyson's brook, goes on and on. This lady takes very good care of herself, eats the proper food, does not drink, and has kept her youthful figure.

Now Gloria has a chance to make a picture in Rome with Vittoria De Sica and she is about to sign a contract for "Mandy Makes Up Her Mind."

In Europe, most of the film companies are wise enough to appreciate the older actresses.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random:

Kathryn Grayson's father, Charles E. Hedrick, is planning to marry his nurse. Katie tells me she's glad and likes the bride-to-be.

Great that Clifton Webb's popular ma, Maybelle, is well enough to sail for Europe with him May 4 on the Queen Elizabeth.

The prime minister of Thailand and a party of 12 were at the Moulin Rouge, the guests of Lockheed air plant. It was the very first time the prime minister had ever been in an American night club and he liked it.

Cary Grant and Betsy Drake, on one of their few nights out, dining at Frascati's. Las Vegas is still talking about the hit Cary made at the Variety Club dinner.

George Lait, formerly publicity head of Columbia, gets himself a very good job heading a new department at Paramount.

Bette Davis has been bedded wtih flu ever since she arrived in town for the added scenes on "Sir Walter Raleigh."

Joan Crawford and Milton Rackmil with the Myrt Blums were a foursome at Perino's.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Mrs. Blank Given Stork Shower

MT. SAVAGE — Mrs. Evelyn Blank and Mrs. Norma Lee Stevens entertained a recent evening honoring Mrs. Raymond Blank with a stork shower. The gifts were placed in a bassinett. Cards featured the entertainment. Refreshments were served.

Prize winners were Mrs. Coleen Humbertson, Mrs. Polly Allen, and Mrs. Wanda Lee Duckworth. Also attending were Miss Jean Conway, Mrs. Pauline McDermitt, Mrs. William Witt, Mrs. Stanton Melvin, Mrs. Walter Meade, Mrs. Alma Brailer, Mrs. Adelaide Logsdon, Mrs. Thelma Green, Mrs. Helena Deffenbaugh, Mt. Savage. Mrs. Oma Farrell, Mt. Lake Park; Mrs. Zeta Martin, Mrs. John B. Clancy, Mrs. John A. Collins, Cumberland; Mrs. Norma Lee Stevens and Mrs. Evelyn Blank, Mt. Savage.

KEYSER — City Clerk Carl F. Theiss Jr., has reported parking meter receipts for the week ending last Saturday amounted to $259.84, a decrease from the previous week, when the receipts were $282.16.

Market Loses After Early Selling, Weakness In Steels

NEW YORK, April 28 (AP) — An early selling wave and late weakness in steels combined today to send the stock market lower.

Throughout the day the market was sensitive to earnings and dividend reports, and it seemed to put adverse interpretations on developments as quickly as possible.

Pullman fell away around 7 points on an earnings report that showed first quarter profits equal to 58 cents a share as against $1.91 a year ago. The stock closed off 6½ at 60.

The whole market sagged at a quiet pace until shortly before the close when Bethlehem Steel declared a dividend of $1.50 as compared with $2.25 in the previous quarter and $1.25 a year ago.

Bethlehem fell off rapidly and reached a low of 134½ before closing off 8⅜ at 135.

Bethlehem earnings came to $3.51 a share as against $2.73 a year ago.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks was off $2.00 at $163.60. Both Bethlehem and Pullman are in the industrial component which lost $3.80. The rails were off 90 cents and utilities 30 cents.

Daily Bridge Lesson

TOO MANY "RULES"

ONE OF the many disadvantages in taking "rules" too seriously is that they often conflict with each other. Take, for example, "second-hand low" and "cover an honor with an honor." East's trouble in the following deal was in not knowing which of these (both unreliable) old saws to apply.

West dealer.
Both sides vulnerable.
Both sides 60 on score.

	♠ 9 8 4 ♥ K 6 5 2 ♦ A K Q 6 ♣ J 2
♠ A Q 7 ♥ Q J 10 7 3 ♦ 8 2 ♣ K 10 8	N W E S	♠ 6 5 2 ♥ 9 4 ♦ J 7 5 3 ♣ A 7 4 3
	♠ K J 10 3 ♥ A 8 ♦ 10 9 4 ♣ Q 9 6 5

The bidding:

West	North	East	South
1 ♥	1 NT	Pass	Pass
2 ♥	Pass	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	Pass	Pass

West, realizing that the situation was desperate, felt that it would be better to play for a diamond ruff than to look for heart tricks, so he opened his top diamond. Dummy won and the spade four was led to the jack. West took the trick with the queen and returned his last diamond. Again dummy won, and now the spade eight was led to the king.

After winning with the spade ace, West shifted to the queen of hearts. South let this ride to his own ace, but then he could not afford to draw another round of trumps because he might have urgent need of dummy's last trump. Instead, he led a diamond toward dummy, giving West a chance to ruff.

West did ruff, and he then led the heart jack. The king won, and now came the crucial play: the club jack was led, and East ducked. West won with the king but was helpless. His heart return was ruffed by South with the ten; dummy was entered with the trump, the high diamond was cashed, and the club deuce was led toward the queen, which was sure to make for the fulfilling trick.

It would have done West no good to return a club instead of the heart ten, because this simply would have set up South's clubs.

The "point" of the defense was that East should have played the club ace on the jack and returned a trump. This would have prevented declarer from taking any club trick, or from ruffing a club in dummy.

Economic Future Here Called Good At PSC Meeting

City Bus Firm Will Be Incorporated; Mt. Savage Line Changes Hands

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP) — The economic outlook at Cumberland came up in two hearings before the Public Service Commission today. Witnesses in both cases said it was "very optimistic" and "better now than ever."

As the result of the hearings, the PSC:

1. Permitted Mr. and Mrs. Guy M. Davis, operating the Cumberland Transit Lines as a partnership, to convert it into a corporation.

2. Permitted Walter E. Rinard, veteran operator of the Mt. Savage Bus Line, to sell it for a song to a new corporation formed by four of his long-time employes.

The PSC allowed Mr. and Mrs. Davis to incorporate their bus line operation after he testified it was barely making a profit but managed to meet all its obligations through January, February and March.

Davis said he was up to date in payments on a loan from the federal government's Small Business Administration and on back federal taxes.

John H. Hessey, chairman of the PSC, pointed out to Davis that incorporation of the firm would not release him from these obligations.

Members of a partnership are personally liable for its losses. Stockholders or officers of a corporation cannot be forced to give up their homes or other property to cover its losses.

Much Better Feeling

Wilmer Fell Davis, Eastern Shore member of the commission, asked Davis what prospects were for better business on the bus line.

"There's a lot better feeling in Cumberland now," he said, referring to gains in employment at the Celanese Corp. and a new plant which Pittsburgh Plate Glass plans to start building in the next few weeks.

William C. Walsh, former judge and Maryland attorney general, appeared as counsel for Davis and he gave the commission a detailed statement of the economic picture, since he is a member of a civic committee which has been promoting industrial development in Cumberland.

He reported production of a newly developed synthetic fibre had increased employment at Celanese by 700 to 800 in the past three months and said work also is being done on still another new yarn. Construction of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass plant is expected to offer employment opportunities for 18 months, he said, and then it will need production workers.

Employment is up at Allegany Ballistics Laboratory and has been running high at Kelly-Springfield Tire Co, he said.

"The general outlook is very optimistic, it is much better," Walsh declared.

The commission had heard similar estimates earlier in the Mt. Savage Bus Line case from Victor L. Sturtz, president, and John Cassen, secretary and general manager of the new firm taking over Rinard's holdings.

Future "Better Than Ever"

"Prospects are better now than ever," declared Cassen after recounting the increase in employment at Celanese and the coming of the glass plant.

He and Sturtz, both of whom have been drivers for Rinard on the Mt. Savage Bus Line for more than 11 years, expressed confidence they could make it gross as much as the $29,000 it took in last year.

Rinard, who was 72 last week and has operated the line since 1915, explained his health had been poor and he wanted to retire from active management.

He offered to sell the business—10 buses and equipment—to his four employes for $11,500—$3,000 down and $2,000 a year. He won't charge any interest on the note. He will retain ownership of the garage and office building and live in one of the apartments there, but the new firm can use the garage and other facilities free by paying only the insurance and taxes. He will serve as a member of the board of the new firm and give it his counsel and advice, without pay.

Chairman Hessey told Rinard it was "very refreshing to have someone like you come in here with such a generous offer. It doesn't happen very often," he said.

In the new corporation with Victor Sturtz and Cassen are Lloyd S. Sturtz, a driver for 18 years, and George A. Markwood, who has worked for Rinard for 23 years. Lloyd Sturtz, no relation to Victor, was listed as vice president of the new corporation and Markwood as treasurer.

"They can operate it better than I am doing," Rinard told the commission. "They have more contact with the passengers. They helped me build the business. They made our wonderful safety record of never having hurt a passenger in an accident."

Wolfe Again Heads Route 40 Association

Publicity Program Will Be Augmented

Edward Wolfe, 304 Park Street, local soft drink manufacturer, was re-elected president of the Route 40 Association last night at the annual meeting in LaVale Fire Hall.

There were about 60 members present from Allegany and Garrett counties, plus a delegation of 35 from Washington County, where interest in the association is increasing rapidly.

Elected with Wolfe are T. R. Wolford, vice president; William A. Wilson, secretary; and Robert Wills, treasurer.

The board of directors includes Eldon Shipway, Green Ridge; Clifford Crowe, Frostburg; John S. Pritchard, Grantsville; Walter W. White, Town Hill; James Garland, city; E. L. Warner, Baltimore Pike; Jack L. Towler, city; and E. E. "Skip" Knepper of Clear Spring.

Wolfe appointed a publicity committee including Knepper as chairman, Homer Lippold, Walter White, Lee Marple, Eldon Shipway, and Gilbert Wieland of Hagerstown.

The association last night heard reports on legislative action regarding Route 40 and other road improvements and also heard a report on the veto of the traffic channelling bill by Gov. McKeldin. The group had unanimously favored this bill, had urged its passage and had urged the governor to sign it into law.

Plans were outlined for extension of the Association's advertising and publicity campaign calling attention to Western Marylapd and Route 40 in an effort to attract more tourist trade. Members believe efforts made in the past two years have already shown definite results, and they plan to augment the program with other media and ideas.

On May 20, the association will be host to a group of newspaper and magazine editors touring this section, at a dinner at the Cumberland Country Club.

Two Workshops For Teachers Planned Here

The second workshop is scheduled for 2:30 p. m. Thursday at Barton Elementary School. Boys and girls in Miss Mae Meese's classroom will present the demonstration there.

At both workshops the teachers will follow the demonstration with a discussion concerning the evaluation of the program which Routch started in the fourth grade in the fall of 1953.

Ground-Breaking For Dormitories Planned May 16

Governor McKeldin Will Be Speaker

Details of the ground-breaking ceremony Monday, May 16, for two new dormitories at Frostburg State Teachers College were completed yesterday afternoon by the faculty ground-breaking committee, according to Dr. Robert A. Elderdice, chairman.

Governor Theodore R. McKeldin will be the principal speaker at the ceremony and will turn the first spadeful of dirt for the construction. Baltimore contractors submitted a low bid of $469,700 last month for construction of the two buildings, each of which will house about 75 students.

The ground-breaking will be followed by a luncheon in the college dining hall. Invited to the luncheon are state legislators from Allegany and Garrett counties, Mayor Perry W. Myers and the City Council of Frostburg, Dr. Lillian C. Compton, retired president of the college, and William A. Gunter, local attorney and member of the State Board of Education.

Four resident student leaders also will attend the luncheon. They are Ann Riggleman, Mary K. Logsdon, Ronald Chapman and David Dunn.

Music for the ground-breaking, which will start at 11:30 a. m. May 16, will be provided by the Northern High School band from Garrett County. The plans call for the band to march to the campus from the Main Street of Frostburg.

The resident men and women students of the college will attend the ceremony in a body. Charles I. Sager, director of the music department of the college, will lead the group in singing.

Rev. John Bayley Jones, pastor of Frostburg's First Methodist Church, will deliver the invocation and Dr. Paul V. Taylor, pastor of Zion Evangelical and Reformed Church of Frostburg, will give the benediction.

Present plans call for Gunter to serve as master of ceremonies if his law practice does not call him away from the county that day. Dean Ivan C. Diehl will introduce guests.

Dr. Elderdice will be called upon in his capacity as adviser to resident men students to explain the construction plans for the two buildings.

R. Bowen Hardesty, president of the college, will introduce Governor McKeldin. The four representative students will assist McKeldin as he moves the first spadeful of dirt.

Guests will meet in the social room of Lowndes Hall before the ceremony gets under way. The public is also requested to meet in Lowndes Hall. Dr. Elderdice emphasized that no special invitations will be extended but the public in general is invited.

Serving with Dr. Elderdice on the ground-breaking committee are Dean Diehl, Dr. Leila Stevens and Miss Pauline Hobbs.

Regional Fire School Arranged

The third annual regional fire school for Western Maryland will be conducted tomorrow and Sunday at Frostburg by the Fire Service Extension of the University of Maryland.

The latest fire fighting and rescue work will be shown. Pump classes will emphasize how to operate the various pumps being used by companies in this area.

Sponsor of the school is the Allegany - Garrett Counties Volunteer Firemen's Association. Jesse Jacobs of Frostburg is chairman of arrangements. He is being assisted by Harry DeHaven, Baltimore Pike; Homer Ambrose, McCoole; Harry Hackett, Westernport, and George Comp, Deer Park.

An obsolete building will be set afire to allow the volunteer firemen to use various types of extinguishers in putting out the flames.

Speedy Jury Gives Couple $965 Verdict

Body Deliberates Only Five Minutes

After deliberating only about five minutes, an Allegany County Circuit Court jury awarded a 75-year-old Hagerstown man and his wife $965.58 damages in a dispute over charges they paid for construction of their home.

Ellis G. and Mattie Jane Hill were awarded damages in the suit they filed against Stearl M. Moyer, a young Hagerstown man, who had contracted to build them a house in 1951. The case was removed here from Washington County Circuit Court.

Attorneys for the Hills argued that Moyer did not properly use the final $1,800 they paid him in the $7,050 contract price to pay for building materials he had used in the construction.

Receipts presented by Hills showed that only $1,002 of the $1,800 was spent to pay for building materials. As a result Chief Judge George Henderson stipulated in his instructions to the jury that the most they could find for the plaintiff was $798 damages, the difference between $1,800 and $1,002, plus interest from October 4, 1951, the date on which it was paid.

In the brief time the three women and nine men on the jury were deliberating they agreed that the Hills should receive $798 plus interest. In the five minutes they also figured the interest. Mrs. Bernice S. Race of Frostburg was foreman.

Three attorneys represented the Hills. They were Richard C. Ready and John S. Hollyday, both of Hagerstown, and Thomas B. Finan, this city. Defense attorneys were Marvin V. B. Bostetter of Hagerstown and Julius E. Schindler of this city.

100 Men Recalled To B&O Car Repair Shops At Keyser

One hundred car repairmen will be recalled to the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad's Keyser, W. Va., car repair shops effective Sunday, the railroad announced yesterday.

The recalls are part of a system-wide recall of 550 men in 11 repair units.

Railroad officials said 25 men also will be recalled to the line's shops at Cumbo, east of Martinsburg, W. Va.

Others will be called back to work at Baltimore, Pittsburgh, Painesville and Chillicothe, Ohio, Washington, Ind., DuBois, Pa., and East Chicago, Ind.

The railroad said it has recalled 1,625 car repairmen from furlough since February. Most were laid off late last year.

Veto Retains SRC Right To Control Access To Road

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP)—Gov. McKeldin by veto today kept the power of the State Roads Commission to build controlled access highways in its 12-year program for overhauling Maryland's road system.

The key bill involved was passed by the recent General Assembly at the behest of the Somerset County delegation in the House. It would have prohibited the Roads Commission from making U.S. 13 into a controlled access highway between the Wicomico County line and Westover.

Independent engineers who checked the 12-year program before it was submitted to the Legislature in 1953 criticized it for not proposing even more controlled access highways.

A somewhat similar problem confronted the governor when he vetoed an Allegany County bill to regulate ingress and egress from such busy highways as U.S. 40.

The Commission has the power to fix the location of such points, and the width of the connecting driveways on roads carrying more than 2,000 vehicles a day.

The Allegany County bill would have taken this power away from the Roads Commission on connecting driveways and places of business built before June 1, 1955.

The governor said this would have "undone all of the work of the commission during the past four years in entrance channelization designed to provide for the orderly movement of vehicles in and out of roadside places of business.

"The safety theory inherent in this exercise of authority by the commission is apparent to any highway user. It has enjoyed the cooperation of many large business enterprises and of the major oil companies.

"The commission's program in this field has been a slow process. There remain many places of business which have large frontages on State highways and continuous paved areas adjacent thereto.

"This not only permits the conduct of private business on public property, but entrance on or off the highways at dangerous angles and speeds. It creates continous roadside hazards conducive to accidents.

"To invalidate all the work accomplished by the commission in the past four years would definitely be inimical to the public interest. It would interfere with a recognized safety factor."

Seek Liquor License

D. M. Maga, James I. Clarkson and Marshall M. Robaire yesterday filed an application with the Allegany County Board of Alcoholic Beverages License Commissioners for a beer, wine and liquor license for the John H. Murphy Restaurant Company, 116 Harrison Street.

Two applications for beer licenses also were filed. Ruth M. Lewis seeks a license for premises at 309 Fifth Street and Pearl Neilson for premises at Wrights Crossing.

Brother Nicholas Writes Account On Life In Caves

"Life In Caves," written by Brother G. Nicholas, F.S.C., a science teacher at LaSalle High School, is featured in the May issue of Scientific American, a nationally-circulated monthly magazine.

In his article, accompanied by eight illustrations, Brother Nicholas states that the study of cave life has two special attractions. It offers the unusual situation of organisms living in a constant environment where the temperature, humidity and other conditions are practically the same night and day throughout the year. It also is an excellent natural laboratory for investigating evolution since the extreme environment manifests its effects on living forms in a direct, dramatic way.

The brother then observes that a cave has three zones, the open area just inside the entrance, a twilight region and the perpetually dark interior. He describes animal life found in each.

Brother Nicholas says that cave life is an important study for biology and evolution but adds that the study is seriously threatened by a rise in popular interest in the subject. Increased exploration of caves in recent years has become a menace to the animals and plants dwelling in them. As a result of indiscriminate collecting, some species of cave animals have become practically extinct.

"If the cave species are to be preserved for the advancement of science, we shall all have to come to realize that animals living underground are just as much a part of nature as those living above the ground," he says.

The magazine also has a brief biographical sketch of the young science teacher. After observing that he teaches science at LaSalle, the account notes that he is a graduate of Catholic University and has an M.S. from the University of Pittsburgh.

Although Brother Nicholas has a teaching load of 34 hours a week he has managed to write some 25 articles, mostly on the biology and paleontology of caves. At 27 he is a vice president of the National Speleological Society.

"I have explored some 200 caves in Maryland, Virginia, West Virginia and Pennsylvania," Brother Nicholas writes.

"Being mainly a biologist, I became intrigued as to just how any life could possibly exist in such apparent desolate regions. This, plus the luck of stumbling over some important fossil remains near Cumberland, gained for me the opportunity of meeting several individuals willing to finance some large-scale excavations in the Cumberland Bone Cave.

"From this it was a natural step to explain the relationships of the animals found there. At times, after wading through cold water up to my chin and squeezing through rocky crevices fit for only a caterpillar, I have wondered whether it was worth all the trouble just to report on some crazy cave cricket. There is so little being done on the biology of caves, though, that I suppose somebody has to do it."

R. E. Bennett Gets Eastern Star Office

R. Edgar Bennett of LaVale, a member of Mt. Lodge 99, AF and A Masons and of Mountain Chapter 15, Order of Eastern Star, Frostburg, has been elected associate grand patron of the Eastern Star of Maryland.

Members of the order consider this a singular honor for Western Maryland. Bennett was formally installed at the Lord Baltimore hotel in Baltimore Wednesday night at the annual conclave. Over 2,000 delegates from all parts of the state are attending.

In addition to Bennett several other area persons were named to state offices.

Mrs. Edna Murray, 729 Bedford Street, was appointed grand warder. She is a member of McKinley Chapter 12 here.

Four deputy grand lecturers named are Mrs. Myra Martin, Oakland Chapter 67; Mrs. Gertrude Farrel, Bethlehem Chapter 14, Westernport; Mrs. Mary Crowe, Rebecca Arnold Chapter 57 of Mt. Savage; and Mrs. Eleanor Umstot, McKinley Chapter 12, here.

Early Action Is Slated On Senate Post

A spokesman for the Republican State Central Committee of Allegany County said yesterday he thinks the body will make its recommendation on the county's senatorial vacancy within the next few weeks.

But James S. Getty, chairman, said the committee has had no official word from Governor McKeldin on the subject.

He added no formal action on the matter is possible until the committee receives official notification.

The position of state senator has been vacant since last Saturday morning, when Robert B. Kimble was sworn in as chairman of the State Employment Security Board.

Earlier yesterday, the assistant state's attorney announced he is not a candidate for the position.

A published report that he was rumored a candidate was denied by the Lonaconing attorney.

Getty said he would not be a candidate because of his position as chairman of the Allegany County Republican State Central Committee, the body which will send in the recommendation for the successor of Robert B. Kimble. Getty was appointed by the committee as its chairman. He does not have a vote, however.

Kimble Invites Solons To Aid In ESB Probe

BALTIMORE, April 28 (AP)—Top officers of the Legislative Council were invited tonight to help determine how and by whom the Maryland Department of Employment Security should be investigated.

The invitation came from Robert B. Kimble, new chief of the department, at the first meeting of the new council, which serves as the between-sessions investigative and screening arm of the General Assembly.

Kimble, a state senator for 21 years until he resigned last week to accept the department's highest post, told the Council that if any legislation were needed to correct alleged irregularities in department operations he would "be the first to come to the Council and present" suggestions.

City's Teamwork, Alertness In Obtaining New Industry Lauded By Pa. Newspaper

Cumberland's successful effort in bringing the new $34,000,000 plant of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company here has been featured in a two-column article on the front page page of the Williamsport (Pa.) Examiner, a weekly newspaper.

The article, which fills some 40 column inches, emphasizes the theme that teamwork pays off.

Albert H. Hargreaves, director of industrial promotion for the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce, said that the editor of the Williamsport paper wrote him some time ago asking for information on how Cumberland promotes industry.

The Examiner has been running a series of articles on the success of neighboring cities in encouraging new industries.

Starting at the beginning, the account explains that in the summer of 1952, Cumberland business men formed an industrial promotion committee with $160,000 as a promotional fund.

Then, in October 1952, Hargreaves was hired by the Chamber of Commerce to direct these activities. Under his leadership, the industrial development program brought together various facets of government, industry and labor to work toward the end objective of making Cumberland as attractive as possible to new industry by simply having everyone working towards the same goal.

The article explains that the fact that in less than two years, the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company decided to locate here is the best measure of the success of the program. The company investigated every possible economic and social factor of the Cumberland area and found that the representations made for it were factual and in many cases modest and in no instance less than the standard for which the company was looking.

Citing evidence of city and county cooperation in the effort to bring the new plant to this area, the article then cites six basic factors which influenced the company to locate here. They are raw materials, transportation, site, river water, labor, and finally the fact that the community wanted new industry.

"The community now looks forward to other companies locating in the area as a result of the industrial development effort. It anticipates the time when full employment can again be expected as part of its regular economic life rather than as part of a wartime economy . . ."

Board Grants Permit Delay Asked By City

Lots Are Located On Industrial Route

The Board of Zoning Appeals last night tabled until May 16 a decision on the application of a Route 1, Ridgeley man to move a home on land slated to become part of the Industrial Highway segment of the Crosstown Expressway program.

The delay was urged by Thomas B. Finan, city attorney, so the city can acquire Lots 71 and 72 of Montreal Avenue which will be needed by the State Roads Commission for the highway.

The lots are owned by E. J. Presnell, who some time ago sold a home in that area to the B&O with the right to repurchase the house for $600 if it is moved to another lot.

He purchased Lots 71 and 72 — which are located on the proposed expressway road to Route 51 — and also secured an option on Lots 69 and 70.

Presnell's attorney, William R. Carscaden, said the board had no alternative to issuing the permit, since there is no violation of the zoning law.

Finan told the board he informed Carscaden about five days ago that the city would buy the lots, but needed time to complete the transaction.

Cites City Duty

He said the city feels that since it has told the SRC it will protect any known right of way for the expressway, the board should allow the city time to acquire the property. He said he believes the transaction could be worked out satisfactorily.

Finan said this is the fourth time the city has stepped in to purchase property needed for the right of way, and added the SRC has been informed of the situation, and has agreed to reimburse the city.

City Engineer C. R. Nuzum said he pointed out to Presnell that he could not grant an occupancy permit since the SRC would need the land within a year.

Carscaden said the man paid $1,900 for the lots and is willing to sell to the city for $2,200, to compensate for his costs and time.

May Amend Law

Finan said the city may have to amend its zoning ordinance to protect itself in connection with land needed for planned highways.

The matter was tabled under mutual agreement.

Also tabled, at the city's request, was a second application tied in with the Industrial segment.

The application was made by Roy W. Lewis, 700 Montreal Avenue, to build a restaurant and gas station at 706 Montreal Avenue.

Finan asked the delay in this case so the city can rezone the area on which the lots stand to a business district.

He said the area is directly opposite an industrial zone.

The city had agreed to purchase other lots for Lewis in exchange for lots he held which were found to be in the middle of the Industrial Highway.

Oppose Gas Station

The Board rejected the application of the Allegany Building and Land Association to build a gas
